RCN AIDS IN SEARCH FOR DOWNED FLIERS

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A search is under way in the Gulf of Alaska for four navy helicopter crew members whose jet-powered craft crashed about midnight, the navy said today.

The helicopter was operating from the USS Bennington on an anti-submarine warfare exercise and was about two miles away when the ship received its distress call.

First on the scene was the destroyer O'Brien and its captain reported sighting only debris. Participating in the search are planes from the Bennington, ships from destroyer division 232 and three Royal Canadian Navy destroyer escorts, HMCS Margaree, Skeena and Mackenzie.

ROOT OF DISPUTE

Atom Bomb Refused Red China

By GEORGE SYVERTSEN

MOSCOW (AP)—Russia and Red China today laid bare the crux of their acrid dispute over the nuclear test ban treaty—Moscow's refusal in 1959 to give the Chinese nuclear weapons.

MAYOR MOORE
... after 'leeches'

Peking finally exposed the festering cut to its national pride in a slashing attack on Soviet nuclear disarmament policy published by the New China news agency today.

It disclosed that the Soviet Union had refused to provide China with "a sample of an atomic bomb and technical data concerning its manufacture."

The Chinese broadside charged that the Russians tore up a 1957 Soviet-Chinese agreement on co-operation in defence technology.

The Soviet abrogation of the agreement as far back as June 20, 1959, "was done as a presentation gift at the time the Soviet leader (Khrushchev) went to the United States for talks with Eisenhower in September," the Chinese charged.

EXPLAINS REFUSAL
The Soviet Communist party organ Pravda, in seeming anticipation of the Chinese blow, today published a justification of Moscow's refusal to share its atomic secrets with its allies. The Pravda attack was a reprint of an anti-Chinese document published in Vienna by the Moscow-sponsored World Peace Council.

It accused the Chinese of having broken with the rest of the world's "fighters for peace" over the partial nuclear test ban.

"Their only worry is to justify the policy of the Chinese government which is doing everything it can to take part in the nuclear arms race," it charged.

The article rejected Chinese claims that Russia and the United States were seeking to maintain a monopoly of nuclear weapons.

The Communist peace movement, it said, "resolutely rejects the very idea that peace should be strengthened... by increasing the number of countries possessing nuclear weapons."

BUILD NUCLEAR ARSENAL

The Pravda reprint also quoted recent Chinese assertions that Peking expects to develop its own nuclear arsenal in the near future. The Soviet public has not previously been informed officially of this prospect.

Premier Khrushchev, who the Chinese indicated personally decided to bar their way to nuclear secrets, was unofficially reported, in the West to have, stated his refusal to give China atomic weapons during his tour of Peking following his tour of the United States.

The Khrushchev decision appeared in the Soviet press.

5 Held, $300,000 Found In 'Great Train Robbery'

MAIL BAGS from the London-bound train which was held up and robbed a week ago are unloaded at police headquarters in Aylesbury, Buckingham-shire today. The bags, some of them stuffed with hay, possibly for use as beds, were found during search of gang's hideout on farm.

Two Suspects Offer Struggle

(Times News Services)

LONDON—Britain's great train robbery appeared to be cracking wide open tonight as police took into custody five persons—including two women—and seized more than £100,000 ($300,000) in cash.

It was believed the five persons were being taken by police to Buckinghamshire, 45 miles northwest of London, where the robbery took place.

Scotland Yard sources said more arrests were likely soon.

It was not known that two women and one man had been taken into custody in London until this evening when the trio left Cannon Row police station.

They were believed travelling to Aylesbury police headquarters in Buckinghamshire.

A sixth suspect, detained in Surrey, was reported to have had a large number of bills in his possession.

Police announced that the other two men were arrested Wednesday night in the channel coast resort town of Bournemouth on a "holding charge" after a struggle with detectives.

Shortly afterwards a bout £100,000 in cash was found in two abandoned vehicles.

The bandits' cash haul in the robbery in Buckinghamshire 40 miles northwest of here was a world-record $7,500,000.

Advance Payment Roused Suspicion

The two men arrested at Bournemouth were nabbed Wednesday night after a local person became suspicious when they asked for rooms and paid the landlady three months' rent in advance for the rooms and garage space for two cars.

They were not immediately identified but were said to be about 45 years old.

The two men put up a struggle before being arrested, police reported.

Detective Sergeant Stan Davies, 44, a Hampshire rugby football player, and Detective Constable Charles Case, 29, found the two men.

The officers were not injured in the struggle.

Canadians May Be Involved

Detectives have discovered the lonely farmhouse the bandits used as a hideout. They have the name and address of the men who bought the place less than a month ago. They have the descriptions of strangers seen in the district just before the raid. They have a list of 47 car and truck registration numbers collected by a nine-year-old boy watching traffic pass near the farmhouse Friday.

They also have information from Canadian police that three Toronto criminals—two of them suspects in a Canadian holdup three years ago—are believed to be in Britain.

Two of the men are suspected of taking part in the 1960 hijacking of $42,000 from a truck which robbers stopped with phony signals at a railway crossing.

A false signal was used to stop the Glasgow-London mail train from which the record loot was taken.

Questioned about the purchaser of the farm hideout, a Scotland Yard spokesman refused to comment.

Buddhist Nun Dies In Suicide Blaze

SAIGON (AP)—A middle-aged Buddhist nun burned herself to death today in a South Viet Nam coastal village to further the Buddhist campaign against President Ngo Dinh Diem's government.

The nun, Dieu Hien, was the fourth Buddhist to commit suicide by fire.

The Buddhists say they are being discriminated against by the government. Diem is a Roman Catholic.

In Hue, capital of central Viet Nam, government troops with fixed bayonets broke up a demonstration by several hundred Buddhist students demanding the body of a novice monk who immolated himself Tuesday. Scores of students were arrested, and some were believed wounded.

The monk committed suicide at a pagoda outside Hue. Monks were carrying the body into the city for a public burial Wednesday when troops seized it and turned it over to an uncle of the monk for private burial.

NEWSPAPER APPOINTMENTS

Appointment of Bruce Hutchison as editorial director of The Vancouver Sun was announced today by Donald Cromie, publisher, and by F.P. Publications Ltd., which recently acquired control of the Vancouver evening daily, fourth largest in Canada. Mr. Hutchison (left) resigned as editor of The Victoria Daily Times but will continue to live in this city and contribute editorial-page columns to The Times. Named as Acting Editor of The Times is Victoria-born Brian A. Tobin (right), an alumnus of Victoria College and the University of B.C., who joined this newspaper as an associate editor in 1947 after service abroad as a war correspondent and bureau chief of United Press.

Segregation Row Sparks Church Parley

TORONTO (CP)—Delegates to the Anglican World Congress clashed today on a controversy over how far the church should become engaged in the struggle for Negro civil rights and social justice.

(See also page 31.)

Mingled hissing and scattered applause greeted a statement by segregationist Francis T. West, a lay delegate from Martinsville, Va., who charged that church support for the Aug. 28 march on Washington indicates "fuzziness in clerical minds."

"The church thus becomes a mere handmaiden of the pseudo-liberals," he protested that it is repugnant to "use Christianity as a front" in the civil rights issue.

Mr. West was one of several delegates who spoke from the floor. But he was the only one to oppose support for civil rights demonstrations.

As Mr. West was speaking a Negro clergyman was standing quietly beside him awaiting a turn at the microphone. However, Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, who was moderator of the discussion, adjourned the meeting for lunch following the West speech. The issue was later taken up at closed study groups.

MUST SPEAK BOLDLY

Rev. C. Edward Crowther, formerly of Cape Town, South Africa, and now chaplain at the University of California, in Los Angeles, delivered an impassioned plea to the Congress to "speak boldly to some southern clergy and laymen who have not stood up to be counted" on the side of civil rights for Negroes.

The Episcopal church in some states practises segregation... in the name of Christ this congress should say something to these people," he said.

Mother Faces Murder Trial

VANCOUVER (CP)—A Port Hardy woman is awaiting trial here for non-capital murder in the death of her five-year-old daughter June 3.

Ethel Mountain, 25, of the Fort Rupert Indian Reserve at Port Hardy, was charged Monday and flown here Tuesday. She was remanded without plea.

Police said the child, one of seven, was stabbed twice with a kitchen knife and died a day later in hospital at Alert Bay.

Date for the trial has not been set.

Wakeham Beaten

SAINT JOHN, N.B.—Bill Wakeham of Victoria was eliminated today from the Canadian amateur golf championship when he dropped his third-round match to Bert Thurst of Vancouver 5 and 3.

U.S. PLANES LOOK ON AS REFUGEES GRABBED

WASHINGTON (AP)—Men from two Cuban warships and a helicopter kidnapped 19 Cuban refugees from a British Caribbean island Tuesday while U.S. warplanes watched, the state department disclosed today.

Word of the action at Anquilla Key was given by press officer Richard I. Phillips as a U.S. Coast Guard ship sailed into Key West with 10 other refugees who escaped the Castro raid.

Phillips said the U.S. Coast Guard patrol planes and U.S. fighter craft which saw the Castro seizure "were not in a position" to do anything about it because of international law.

Anquilla Key is about 40 or 50 miles from Cuba, in the Cay Sal bank of the Bahama Islands "which is British territory," he said.

ARMY TAKES OVER

Rioters Force Youlou to Quit

BRAZZAVILLE, Congo Republic (AP)—President Fulbert Youlou resigned from office today. He announced that he quit from the steps of his palace.

The army temporarily assumed power.

The downfall of the little priest-politician came on the third anniversary of this equatorial African nation's independence from France. Youlou had been the republic's chief executive from the start.

A former Roman Catholic parish priest who was forbidden to say mass because of his political activity, Youlou had been believed to hold this country of 795,000 people in a firm grip.

A chanting mob of Africans who had swarmed around the palace shouting for his resignation greeted the news with noisy jubilation.

Heavily armed Congo troops and police under French command held back the crowd of at least 10,000. Units of the 3,000-man French army garrison were held in reserve with tanks and half-trucks loaded with helmeted soldiers.

The mob was unarmed. Unrest also was reported in the city's Negro townships, where anti-Youlou labor leaders were haranguing workmen.

The 46-year-old president, bowing to the pressure of dissident labor leaders and rioting strikers, had promised Wednesday to form a new government and postpone introduction of a single party system fusing the three established political parties.

FALSE BOTTOMS HELD PROPAGANDA

China Tea Chokes Soviets

MOSCOW (AP)—The Communist Chinese have smuggled anti-Soviet propaganda into Russia in the false bottoms of boxes of rice and tea, a Soviet customs official says.

V. G. Kalantarov, deputy head of the chief customs office in Moscow, says in an interview with the weekly newspaper Nedelya (Week), that his inspectors have confiscated about 50 Chinese propaganda brochures.

He says the contraband literature was found in boxes of tea and rice, sent to Soviet officials with whom the Chinese do business.

"Characteristically, all those to whom these packages were sent expressed indignation on receiving them," Kalantarov says.

He adds that the Chinese are not the only offenders against Soviet customs regulations, and says an unidentified American millionaire was once caught trying to bring in 650 ballpoint pens, 100 phonograph records and 80 religious books in his baggage.

Another Westerner, he says, illegally bought the gold chamber pot used by Russian Empress Catherine the Great which had been stolen from the Leningrad Hermitage Museum.

The traveller's child sat on the pot so long that a customs inspector checked and found it had been painted over to hide the gold.

Kalantarov also complains that Westerners and Russians frequently try to carry blocked Soviet rubles out of the country.

"Enemy intelligence centres always need Soviet currency for their agents," he says.

SYDNEY, Australia—“Mummy has done it again,” John Struthers told two of his daughters Wednesday night after his wife gave birth to her fifth set of twins.

A Sydney gynaecologist said the odds against that many twins in one family are about 3,000,000,000 to 1.

The boy and girl, each weighing five pounds, brought the Struthers brood to 14 children. Four arrived singly.

“It’s very exciting news,” said Janette Struthers, 44, the mother. She and the babies are doing well.

John, 46, who earns $46 a week as a factory machine greaser, said: “I’m very happy about it.”

The couple and 11 children moved to Australia 2½ years ago from Scotland. Their oldest son, James, 25, is a signman in the British army.

A six-bedroom house at Guilford, a Sydney suburb, houses Mr. and Mrs. Struthers, Alex, 21; David, 19; Agnes, 16; John, 15; Ann and Archibald, 14; Robert and Isobel, 11; and Christine and Margaret, 8.

David’s twin, Moreen, is married but has no children. The father said two sets of twins, Ann-Archibald and Christine-Margaret, and one other child—“I can’t remember which one”—all have the same birthday, Feb. 16.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—Chief of Police Harold Smith is conducting a high priority investigation within his department.

Smith said if he is successful in finding out who has been making bird calls over the department’s public address system, they’ll get 30 days without pay to practice.

EAST LANSING, Mich.—A Michigan State University researcher has developed a hybrid plant that may revolutionize pickle picking—an all-girl cucumber.

The new female cucumber, which is disease-resistant, was bred by Dr. Clinton Peterson, a horticulture professor.

The hybrid is a descendant of a Korean cucumber variety. Unlike common varieties of cucumbers which produce 20 male blossoms to every female blossom, the hybrid is 50 to 75 per cent female. In some cases, in fact, it is all female.

Since only female blossoms bear fruit, the greater number of all-girl cucumbers, and female blossoms, means a resulting increase in yield.

ELLENVILLE, N.Y.—A 20-year-old brunette model from New York said Wednesday that the voluptuous billboard body of Cleopatra used all over the world in the $1,000,000 publicity campaign for the film is hers, not Elizabeth Taylor’s.

Lois Bennett, who is vacationing here, said she got a call from the Sutton Model Agency several months ago for an hour’s work at $35, her going fee. She said she was told she was chosen because she was a “Liz Taylor” look-alike and that photos would be taken “for something to do with advertising” the $37,000,000 20th Century-Fox epic.

“They gave me a filmy gown and a sheet,” she said. “A male model sat over me, dressed in armor of the type Richard Burton wears in the poster. It was just another hour’s camera work for me until one day I was walking on Broadway and saw that huge billboard painting of Cleopatra lounging on a couch. I knew it was me—with Liz Taylor’s face painted on.”

Miss Bennett said she called the artist who painted the billboard, which recently won an advertising award, and asked him: “Is that really me?” He told her it was.

“Now that I look back at it, it doesn’t seem quite right to have gotten only $35 for a job like that,” said the 106-pound, 34-20-34 model. “I think 20th Century-Fox might have at least sent me tickets to the show.”

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont.—A Niagara Falls hotel apparently has won the first battle of a war with the Ontario liquor board over serving beer by the yard.

The hotel introduced long-stemmed glasses a month ago and was rebuffed by the board because they held the equivalent of two “pint” bottles of beer. The law requires that no more than one bottle be served at a time.

The hotel has countered by ordering a quantity of large, “quart” bottles from the Brewers’ Retail in St. Catharines, Ont. The large bottles usually are sold only in eastern Ontario and Quebec.

The hotel once again is serving beer by the yard.

BLACKPOOL, Eng.—Frances was in pretty good shape after taking enough anesthetics to put 50 men to sleep and receiving 100 stitches to patch up her hernia operation.

Now she’s convalescing on a daily diet of 40 loaves of bread, four dozen bananas, 15 pounds of carrots and 18 quarts of milk.

“It was the biggest job I’ve ever tackled,” said George Towse, a veterinarian who worked four hours over the sleeping body of Frances, a five-year-old Indian circus elephant.

Scotland Yard was known to have built up a list of leading suspects—most of them reported to have been named by stool pigeons tempted by £260,000 in reward money.

Press reports have said between seven and 19 known criminals were on Scotland Yard’s “wanted” list in connection with the robbery.

One report said the name of a blonde woman missing from her home since the robbery was given to police.

Her description answers that of a blonde, about 35, seen near the gang’s farmhouse refuge, the report added.

Two of the yard’s best known detectives—Chief Supt. Tom Butler and Chief Inspector Peter Vibart—have joined the search.

Known as “the terrible twins,” they were assigned to Cyprus during the underground war because of their ability as interrogators.

Mr. Chatterton commented: “I think amendment is required in federal legislation. It should be permissive rather than compulsory. I think the provincial authorities are in favor of letting the municipalities do this (require work from welfare cases), but with safeguards.”

Those municipalities which want to should be allowed to do so as long as they don’t pay so-called wages and the recipients don’t do useless work like in the old style relief camps.

The MP said when he was reeve of Saanich, cases were referred to public works before being placed on welfare.

“There were a few who gave cause to be fired after two or three days, but only a few. There are always some like that.”

Welfare costs are divided between the three governments, roughly 10 per cent borne by the municipality and 45 per cent by the senior governments.

Asked if he thought it fair that the senior governments would be paying for most of local works undertaken through his scheme, Mayor Moore replied:

“We’re not fussy where they go to work as long as they do useful work. There are lots of provincial projects, too.”

“Our scheme is not to get cheap work.”

ACCUSES RUSSIA

The Chinese statement also accused the Kremlin of being ready to sacrifice Communist East Germany to the West in order to curry favor with the U.S.

The statement claimed Russia had brazenly “ganged up with the imperialist bandits” in exerting pressure on Communist China.

The statement described Russia’s defence of the nuclear test ban treaty as “poor . . . rambling, haphazard, full of pointless talk.”

Commenting on the Aug. 3 Russian statement refuting earlier Chinese criticisms of the treaty, the statement accused Russia of thinking it did not matter if “West-German revisionists” had nuclear weapons as long as the United States controlled them.

The treaty shows that Russia’s leaders were following a line of “out and out capitulation,” it said.

The real aim of the Soviet leaders is to compromise with the United States in order to seek momentary ease, to maintain a monopoly of nuclear weapons and “lord it over the socialist camp.”

parently prompted Peking to re-vamp its military thinking, re-inforcing its reliance on old-fashioned tactics and purging younger officers who insisted on concerted efforts to make the Chinese army a nuclear force.

Khrushchev told U.S. Under-secretary of State Averell Harriman last month that he estimates the Chinese will not be a serious nuclear threat for about the next 10 years.

He indicated that the Kremlin would continue to turn a deaf ear to the Chinese demands for Russian nuclear weapons.

(In the West the statement was called the first known official Chinese admission that Russia refused to aid Peking’s scientists in developing nuclear weapons.)

The MP said when he was reeve of Saanich, cases were referred to public works before being placed on welfare.

“There were a few who gave cause to be fired after two or three days, but only a few. There are always some like that.”

Welfare costs are divided between the three governments, roughly 10 per cent borne by the municipality and 45 per cent by the senior governments.

Asked if he thought it fair that the senior governments would be paying for most of local works undertaken through his scheme, Mayor Moore replied:

“We’re not fussy where they go to work as long as they do useful work. There are lots of provincial projects, too.”

“Our scheme is not to get cheap work.”

ACCUSES RUSSIA

The Chinese statement also accused the Kremlin of being ready to sacrifice Communist East Germany to the West in order to curry favor with the U.S.

The statement claimed Russia had brazenly “ganged up with the imperialist bandits” in exerting pressure on Communist China.

The statement described Russia’s defence of the nuclear test ban treaty as “poor . . . rambling, haphazard, full of pointless talk.”

Commenting on the Aug. 3 Russian statement refuting earlier Chinese criticisms of the treaty, the statement accused Russia of thinking it did not matter if “West-German revisionists” had nuclear weapons as long as the United States controlled them.

The treaty shows that Russia’s leaders were following a line of “out and out capitulation,” it said.

The real aim of the Soviet leaders is to compromise with the United States in order to seek momentary ease, to maintain a monopoly of nuclear weapons and “lord it over the socialist camp.”

SUPPORT of the limited test ban treaty was voiced today by Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the U.S. joint chiefs of staff. In addition Gen. Taylor said he was under no pressure or arm-twisting from civilian superiors in the U.S. defence department.

Mr. Chatterton commented: “I think amendment is required in federal legislation. It should be permissive rather than compulsory. I think the provincial authorities are in favor of letting the municipalities do this (require work from welfare cases), but with safeguards.”

Those municipalities which want to should be allowed to do so as long as they don’t pay so-called wages and the recipients don’t do useless work like in the old style relief camps.

Veteran MP Hits Back At Critics

TRAIL, B.C. (CP) — Veteran parliamentarian H. W. (Bert) Herridge believes every citizen has the right to express an opinion in public, private and at a May Day rally.

This right is one of the safeguards of democracy, the MP for Kootenay West said Wednesday in reply to criticism from his own New Democratic Party about his attendance at a Vancouver May Day rally.

A member of the NDP provincial executive said in an interview the executive felt Mr. Herridge and Cedric Cox, NDP member of the legislature for Burnaby, had allowed "themselves to be used by Communist or Communist-front organizations."

Mr. Cox also attended the May 1 rally.

Asked for comment, Mr. Herridge said the party showed "narrow-mindedness." He saw nothing detrimental to the NDP in his appearance at the meeting.

He said he was invited by officers of several responsible unions affiliated with the Vancouver Labor Council or the B.C. Federation of Labor, both B.C. Federation of Labor, both Canadian Labor Council affiliates.

MAJORITY BACK NDP
He presumed the majority of the 1,200 union representatives at the rally were NDP sympathizers.

"I was asked to be there to outline the NDP policy on nuclear weapons, civil rights and the Columbia River treaty, which I did."

Attendance at May Day rallies was completely appropriate because the NDP was affiliated with the CLC.

"I had no hesitation in grasping the opportunity to inform people of the policies of the NDP, especially in view of the representations made to me by prominent trade union leaders."

"While I strongly disagree with people on many things, I believe in the spirit of Hyde Park. I believe that the right of every citizen to express his ideas in private and public, and the opportunity of these national occasions to blow off steam, are some of the safeguards of democracy."

Mr. Cox was not available for comment Wednesday night.

URGE DISCIPLINE

Ernest Hall, NDP provincial secretary, said letters were sent to Mr. Herridge and Mr. Cox which urged that they exercise "a greater degree of self-discipline" so that complaints such as those received over their attending the rally would not occur.

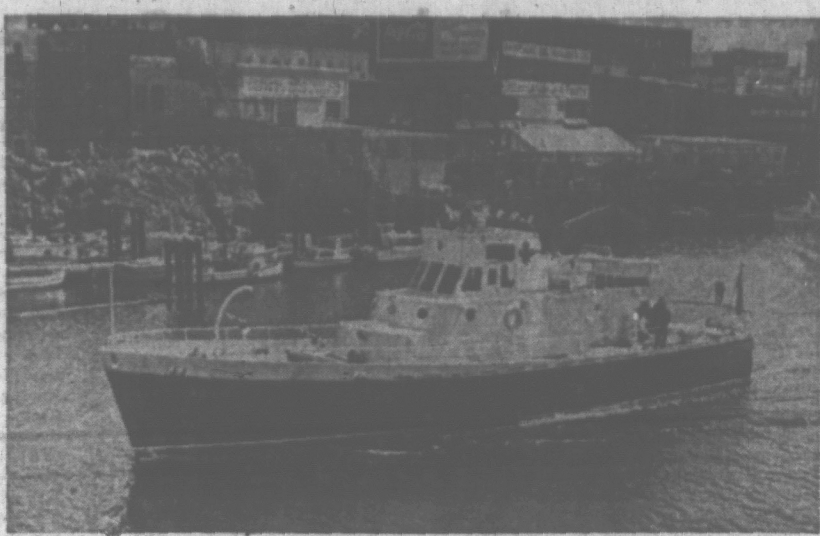

He said at a meeting at Kamloops June 15-16 the executive decided a letter should be sent to "point out certain activities of the previous two months were not doing the party any good."

"Complaints were laid by various people. We pointed out that they (Cox and Herridge) were allowing themselves to be used by Communist or Communist-front organizations."

Disclosure of the party reprimand was made Wednesday when the Trail Times published a letter from provincial President Fred Valliamy to Mr. Herridge.

ALONG THE WATERFRONT

Trim, Slim, Red-Hulled ... Ready Ready Already

By MONTE ROBERTS

The newest darling of the department breezed into town Wednesday, Ready, willing and able to take up her duties with grace, speed and precision.

The department is the Department of Transport; the darling is the trim, slim coast guard cutter COGS Ready; and the duties are the protection of shipping in B.C. waters.

The Ready turned up off the Dallas Road waterfront shortly before 1 p.m., with a look-out-here-I-come bow wave ahead and a smart little rooster tail following.

To this admiring eye, she appeared pert, pretty, but businesslike. To this her officers will attest; during trials, she went from full ahead to full astern without taking on a drop of water.

Her skipper, Capt. J. A. Strand, allowed himself the maritime superlative: "she handles well."

The Ready is the first built-to-order coast guard ship on this coast. Unlike icebreakers, lighthouse tenders, weather ships and other craft which double as coast guard ships, the Ready has one job—to be ready for trouble.

The chief responsibility for search and rescue in Canada lies with the RCAF, which co-ordinates all trouble-shooting from its Sea Island base.

The Canadian Coast Guard, under the Department of Transport, takes care of the surface portion of rescue work.

VICTORIA HOME PORT

The Ready's home port is Victoria, but she will work on a roving commission. Her first patrol, starting next Wednesday, will take her to the Georgia Strait area, where seasonal pleasure boating is apt to keep her busy. She'll be berthed at the RCAF crash boat dock near Kitsilano Beach.

***

I've already reported the Ready's vital statistics—95 feet over-all, 19-foot beam, 20 knots top, 14 knots cruising—but special mention should be made of her color scheme.

It's the new red hull, white superstructure, adopted by all Canadian government vessels when they were re-designated Canadian Coast Guard ships.

And I must say, on her, it looks good.

I can't say the same for the others—especially dear old Estevan.

Exemption Defended
VANCOUVER (CP) — Most Rev. William Duke, Roman Catholic Archbishop of Vancouver, Wednesday defended a section of the Income Tax Act—attacked Tuesday by a group of Baptist ministers—that exempts members of religious orders from paying income tax.

"I think such a vow rightfully exempts a person from tax whether or not he is a member of the Catholic Church."

Ministers May Desert Ben Bella

ALGIERS (AP) — Premier Ahmed Ben Bella today faced threats of resignation by several ministers in his troubled government.

The threats apparently were prompted by the resignation of veteran politician Ferhat Abbas as head of the National Assembly. Abbas left his post charging government interference and "humiliation."

An 11-page document citing the reasons for Abbas' action raised tension in already uneasy Algerian political circles. It was an open and bitter attack on Ben Bella by a man who helped him rise to power last fall.

Informal sources said that among cabinet members planning to leave were Finance Minister Ahmed Francis, Reconstruction Minister Ahmed Boumendjel and Justice Minister Amar Bentoumi, all men with longtime revolutionary records and prestige.

The country's problems—continued lack of money, unemployment and chaotic administration—have been among the main causes of growing dissatisfaction.

ONE-MAN RULE

Those opposing Ben Bella have been citing the premier's tendency toward one-man rule, his alleged disregard for Parliament and rule by a limited number of his followers.

In addition to being premier, Ben Bella is foreign minister and the titular head of the National Liberation Front, the only legal party.

Leaders of the National Liberation Front (FLN) denounced Abbas today for breaking with Ben Bella.

The target date arises from the fact that State Secretary Dean Rusk and British Foreign Secretary Lord Home are scheduled to meet Soviet Foreign Minister Gromyko in New York about the time of the United Nations General Assembly opening Sept. 13.

At the United Nations, the United States is reported to have proposed to the Soviet Union that they resume talks soon on laws to apply to the exploration of space.

Two sets of problems are likely to figure in the next round of East-West cold war talks. Soviet Premier Khrushchev has called for an East-West non-aggression pact. President Kennedy and Rusk have countered this with proposals that the Soviet Union should agree to measures for reducing the possibility of conflict over Berlin and for limiting the dangers of surprise attack.

DEVELOPED LAST WEEK

Those were essentially the two positions that were explored and developed in Russia last week when Rusk conferred with Gromyko and Khrushchev.

The main impression Rusk brought back about his talks with the Soviet officials was that Khrushchev is not urgently pressing for a non-aggression deal at this time.

U.S. authorities are uncertain why Khrushchev wanted this breathing spell in the East-West exchanges, although they welcome it. One speculation is that he needs time to assess the state of his conflict with Red China; another is that he wanted to be sure that the United States would ratify the test-ban pact, which is undergoing hearings in the Senate foreign relations committee.

It could mean Khrushchev recognizes that the United States and Britain need a few weeks in which to talk with their allies about the non-aggression proposal.

Khrushchev's proposed non-aggression treaty is highly controversial within the Western alliance.

Neither the French nor German governments considers it acceptable. West Germany fears it would mean recognition of some kind for East Germany and would also be interpreted by the Russians as freezing the division of Germany and permanently blocking reunification.

Gerald Waring ...REPORTING

OTTAWA — The idea is abroad in the land that our zip action Grit government is going to freeze the Americans out of the seaway business and give us an all-Canadian route at least as far as the Soo.

Just don't hold your breath till it happens. The idea was born—or perhaps "planted" is a better word—with one sentence spoken in the Commons by the minister of transport, George McRath.

He was announcing the government's intention to "twin" or duplicate five single locks in the Welland Canal around Niagara Falls, at an estimated cost of $180 million. Then he added: "The government intends to implement the seaway project further by the construction of a lock at Cornwall, Ont., as soon as studies indicate that it is warranted."

Cornwall is an economically depressed textile town which had its hopes for seaway prosperity dashed a dozen years ago when the then Liberal government agreed to construction of the seaway locks on the U.S. side of the St. Lawrence.

The key figure was Lionel Chevrier, the home town boy whom Cornwall sent to parliament in every election from 1935 to 1953—successively minister of transport, Seaway Authority president, leader of federal Liberals in Quebec and now minister of justice. To soften the disappointment for Cornwall, Chevrier promised that in time—infinitely not too long a time—the government would build a lock and canal at Cornwall so ships could sail through an all-Canadian seaway.

The implication was that Cornwall would boom while the machinery in the U.S. locks rusted with disuse. Chevrier even had the approaches dredged to the lock site, lending credibility to the promise.

Deputy Commons Speaker Lucien Lamoureux is the Liberal MP from Cornwall, and the government doesn't want to lose him on his next trip to the polls. But allocation of $180 millions for five new Welland locks without action at Cornwall could cost Lamoureux his seat.

On the other hand, a $50 millions lock and canal at Cornwall would be a scandalous boondoggle that financially and morally the government just can't afford. Moreover, Canada is committed under the seaway treaty to consult with the U.S. before building a lock at Cornwall, and the American attitude is that if seaway traffic requires duplication of the locks in that section, the additional locks should be built on the U.S. side.

After events of the last few weeks, there is little doubt that Washington could bring Ottawa to heel simply by threatening to cancel the exemption recently granted to Canada from the application of the Kennedy tax on the export of U.S. investment capital.

So McRath resorted to the old carrot stick: after the Welland is twinned, the Cornwall lock will be built "as soon as studies indicate that it is warranted."

That, of course, could be never. Lamoureux hailed McRath's statement as "the solution to all the problems we have in Cornwall." An all-Canadian seaway, he said, would attract both tourists and new industry, and would cure Cornwall's unemployment. "I hope it will be soon—within two years we should get to work," Lamoureux said.

And in the excitement the Cornishmen of Seaway Valley forgot to blow their stacks over five new locks in the Welland.

THE LIGHTER SIDE

Just Count the Legs

WASHINGTON (UPI)—This old cattleman had an uncanny knack of estimating the size of a herd, and when someone asked him how he did it, he said:

"There's nothing to it. I just count the legs and divide by four."

That's a joke, son, but I'm thinking that the army might have done well to have used a similar system a few years ago when it was ordering snowshoes for the troops.

Somehow or other, it wound up with 4,090 more snowshoes than it needed—a situation that might have been avoided by counting heads and multiplying by two.

At any rate, on a spring day in 1958 the quartermaster depot at Jeffersonville, Ind., advertised the 2,090 pairs of surplus snowshoes for sale.

The documents I have available do not make clear just why the army decided that the month of May was a propitious time for selling snowshoes.

There is no gainsaying, however, that few things are more surplus than snowshoes in May.

Anyone who has ever spent time in the army can visualize for himself how the sale came about. In the mental picture I get, a supply sergeant discovers the extra snowshoes under a pile of mosquito netting. Anyone who has spent time in the army also can readily understand how the sale of the snowshoes could wind up in a big snafu.

What happened was that Outlet Stores Inc., Denver, Colo., put in a bid to buy the snowshoes at $6.11 per pair. Its offer was the highest submitted for 1,445 pairs.

But when the bids were opened, the army sold 1,345 pairs to the Outlet Stores Co., St. Paul, Minn., for $5.68 per pair.

When Outlet of Colorado inquired as to why the army had accepted the smaller bid of Minnesota, it was found that an "administrative error" had been made.

The army attempted to retrieve the snowshoes, but by that time most of them had already been re-sold to someone else.

Leonard Joseph, president of the company, said he had made arrangements to sell the snowshoes he bid on for $14.75 a pair. He claimed that the army had done him out of $12,644.41.

But when the matter was bucked to the U.S. comptroller general, it was ruled that the government was not responsible for Joseph's theoretical loss.

Congress now has before it a bill to pay Joseph $1,000 for his time and trouble as regards the snowshoe snafu. Regardless of how it comes out, I will credit him with commendable determination.

Someone less resolute would simply have gone out and buried himself in a snowdrift.

Potted Mums Source of Joy

A few late flowering chrysanthemums growing in pots can be the source of much interest and satisfaction by the time they bloom indoors.

These are usually the kind which can be developed into huge flower heads three or four to a pot by late November, but to do so the plants require considerable attention.

Left to their own devices and given only food and water, the blossoms will be smaller and produced in sprays.

These are quite suitable for home decoration, but those which are known as disbud types repay tender loving care with blossoms larger than a man's head.

Each young plant is grown (from the time they reach about a foot in height), with only three, occasionally four, stems.

Throughout the summer growing season all flower buds are removed except the largest one at the top of each of the three or four stems.

This is an almost daily job for a while, since the tiny buds and all side shoots must be rubbed out with the fingers as soon as they can be seen.

The pots need to be large, 10 or 12 inches in diameter, and the soil mixture must never be allowed to dry out.

In addition to copious watering during the summer, the plants require frequent weak feedings of a balanced fertilizer to produce good green leaves, well-formed flowers of rich coloring, and stout stems to hold them.

There are also numerous varieties which will develop huge heads of bloom in the August and September garden.

Even before the middle of this month I saw 10 varieties of these in flower, covering a fine range of color in yellow, bronze, white and pink. The predominantly cool summer and series of overcast days had no doubt contributed to their blooming about two weeks ahead of their usual time.

Soviet's Two Sides Leave One Confused

By ALAN HARVEY

MOSCOW (CP)—A traveller plunges behind the Iron Curtain wondering why the Soviets are like that and comes back rhapsodizing about the Russian soul. That's what has happened in a month-long visit starting with Moscow's broad boulevards and ending with the leafy parks of Kiev, final memory of many Ukrainians emigrating to Canada.

Between times, strengthening the tourist's impression of basic human worth, came Samarkand, Bukhara and Tashkent. Here in scorching central Asia emerges a new and bewildering segment of the Soviet empire; here European techniques roll back Uzbek mud huts and more than 30 nationalities, strayed off the set of some Charlie Chan movie, mingle in a racial cocktail whose consequences are incalculable.

And finally lighthearted Leningrad with its block-long buildings and Western affinities, not really seeming a Soviet city at all, viewing the cold war with aplomb.

Sea of Doubt

Everywhere, you are reminded that making even the smallest generalization about the Soviet Union is a frightening responsibility. For the country is unbelievably vast, larger than Canada and mainland China put together, as immense as all the Commonwealths. Playing safe, therefore, you cling to a single lifeline in a sea of doubt. Whatever else is misleading, surely these warm-hearted Slavs are the real thing, as friendly and unspoiled as every chance encounter affirms, as ultimately compelling as old Moscow hands insist they are.

In sentimental moments, Russians speak shyly of their "orkryta dusha," or open soul. A personal sample came when a burly Armenian engineer with black bushy moustache and dancing eyes, scraping acquaintance on the Kiev-Moscow train, regaled me with caviar, tall bottles of cognac taken with lemon and a heaping bowl of Georgian strawberries.

He wouldn't accept a ruble in return.

Possibly this is a central dilemma, the contrast between the open soul and the closed society, between human material and governmental machine; the people so intense in personal relationships, so glacial in foreign affairs.

Openly Emotional

Soon the Western mind tosses in torment. On one side are whispers about strict security, radio beams that can pick up conversations in the most private setting, mysterious wrong numbers, artificial noise machines designed to thwart electronic eavesdropping. And again there are the people so alive, under that sluggish Slav exterior, that they will explode in a pandemonium of emotion as an elderly baller-ina makes her final appearance, so tender-hearted they will burst into tears at the sight of an African baby cradled in a white woman's arms.

Are Western suspicions groundless, or are you falling for the socialist sell?

Cover Story?

Is the young party worker, who talks like a brush salesman about working for the collective good, representative of the new Soviet man, or is it just a convenient cover story?

Is it just coincidence when your new friend Svetlana, after gratefully accepting an extra opera ticket, calls to say she won't be able to go with you after all because her mother is sick?

Leaving aside such suspicions, and recognizing the realities of Berlin and disarmament will remain as long as East and West continue to argue from different premises, an impression of common humanity is what most visitors carry away from Moscow.

Weary of War

The Soviets are as weary of war as any people in the world, and as full of goodwill as the most outgoing Americans. But make no mistake, Western voices warn — Nikita Khrushchev is out to beat us if he can. However genial the people, this is still the regime of the restricted spirit. There is no mechanism for gradual change, hardly any tolerated dissent; one jerk of the reins evokes remembered terror.

One evening, as rain touched the towers of the Kremlin across the way, I stood at the corner of Gorky Street and Karl Marx Avenue, with a plaque of Lenin behind me, and answered rapid-fire questions from passersby surging six deep around me.

There was blazing zeal to know about the West. With a dark-skinned Kenyan as interpreter, we ranged over East-West problems, colonialism, racialism in the southern United States, Soviet achievements in space, unemployment in North America.

When I asked what was thought of Canada, a bespectacled student answered in a flash:

"I know our weather is like yours, that you have many Ukrainians and that you are somehow different from Americans. I like what I know and I want to know more."

There wasn't a policeman in sight, and we were hard by Red Square. So far has the Soviet advanced in 10 years. People nodded quietly when I said we couldn't have talked so freely five years ago.

How to sum up? Tentatively, perhaps, the wishful Westerner may decide that Russia is a neurotic giant, a colossus conditioned by past experiences into extreme secretiveness and suspicion, fearful and complex-ridden, dragging behind it an outdated ideology; perhaps some day it may learn to live in comfort with a far-from-perfect West.

Molybdenite Production Seen for 1964

By GORDON BELL

Times Business Editor

Possibility of the first large-scale production of molybdenite in B.C. early next year is seen in the report delivered by Endako Mines Ltd. president Andrew Robertson at the annual meeting in Vancouver this week.

Mr. Robertson reported a considerable improvement of both tonnage and grade of ore at the property near Francois Lake. Possible grade A tonnage has been boosted from 18 million to over 22 million tons with increased grade from .25 to .266 per cent molybdenum sulphide.

"The tempo of the development program is being increased as results warrant, and for the next four months should see a long step towards production," he said.

Another 40 holes, for a total of 120, have been drilled since the annual report was released and, in addition, underground work has started and a contract has been let for an underground program to supply representative ore for bulk sampling and metallurgical testing.

Mr. Robertson also pointed out that engineering figures in the annual report contained a significant typographical error. Estimated capital investment for a milling rate of 10,000 tons daily was given as $30 million and should have read $20 million. The investment would be returned in a four-year period.

At June 25 Mr. Robertson said, total ore reserves stood at 76,217,000 tons indicated and inferred.

A report from Belle Talsis Mines Ltd. on its Silver Ptarmigan property near Invermere states that surface exploration is being continued along the strike of the silver vein and a collapsed adit portal re-discovered.

High grade galena was found on the adit dump and visual inspection indicated it would grade as high as the sample taken from an open cut last week—about 110 ounces silver and 23.5 per cent lead.

Location of the adit is considered important in establishing that a continuous series of ore shoots exist between the silver Ptarmigan and Iron Cap mines, a distance of about 3,000 feet.

Meanwhile, work continues at the copper claims at Talsis on the west coast of Vancouver Island where the company has spent about $70,000 so far.

Dolly Varden Mines has formed a new subsidiary to develop part of its silver properties at Alice Arm.

Kitsault Silver Mines takes in the former Silver Horde option adjoining Dolly Varden's Wolf No. 2 property to the north. The subsidiary is capitalized at 3,000,000 shares with Dolly Varden holding 2,500,000 and a group headed by E. L. Clothier the balance.

President F. C. Buckland said Dolly Varden has also purchased for cash a group of claims adjoining the Silver Horse property.

Granby Mining Co. Ltd. showed a net loss of $86,312 for the second quarter of 1963 adding up to a net loss of $143,311 for the half year to June 20.

This compares with net in-

Contractors Fear Halt On Peace Dam

VANCOUVER (CP)—Work will be stalled on the $73,000,000 Peace River dam project until "a lot of things" are done by the provincial government and B.C.'s hydro authority, a spokesman for the group building the dam said Wednesday.

He said businessmen running the consortium are stumped by the uncertain status of their contract with the B.C. Hydro and Power Authority, which has become a legal non-entity.

The decision of Chief Justice Sherwood Lett of the B.C. Supreme Court, nullifying legislation that brought about the "authority," caused the trouble.

Meeting here Wednesday were Peter Kiewit, head of Peter Kiewit Sons Co. of Canada Ltd.; Graham Dawson of Dawson Construction Ltd. and Vance Johnson of Al Johnson Construction Co. of Canada Ltd.

About $2,000,000 already is spent or committed on the job and work continues at the site on a restricted basis.

come of $108,576 for the first quarter and $172,111 for the first half last year.

President L. T. Postle said subsidiary Jedway Iron Ore Ltd. was prevented from operating its plant on Moresby Island at full capacity during May, June and July because of a water shortage.

An increase in the size of the water recovery plant is under construction and should prevent a recurrence.

Operating profit at Jedway was $135,133 in the second quarter but this was offset by heavy depreciation of $290,604.

Another subsidiary, Phoenix Copper at Greenwood had an operating profit of $135,133 for the quarter.

MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River Ltd. will build a $2,000,000 corrugated box plant in Winnipeg for its subsidiary Martin Paper Products Ltd.

The 93,200-square-foot plant will replace a plant at St. Boniface which is too limited for company needs.

URANIUM MINE OUTPUT DROPS

OTTAWA (UPI)—Canadian uranium deliveries during the second quarter of 1963 totalled 2,053 tons valued at $40,445,101, the crown-owned El Dorado Mining and Refining Company reported today.

It compared with 2,140 tons and $42,762,210 in the April-June period of 1962.

Highway Route Divides Group

VERNON, B.C. (CP)—The president of the British Columbia Tourist Association said Wednesday the group is split over relative merits of the Howse Pass and Yellowhead Pass highways linking B.C. and Alberta.

Ellwood C. Rice of Vernon says he and most businessmen in the Okanagan Valley want the Howse Pass route. But both are essential and both can be built, he said.

Mr. Rice was interviewed after announcing a tour of the Okanagan Sept. 5 for Central Alberta Chamber of Commerce officials. Members of the B.C. association from the Kootenay and Kamloops areas favor the Yellowhead, touted as part of a second Trans-Canada Highway that would pass through Prince George and Edmonton. The Howse Pass highway would be 125 miles shorter, running from Red Deer through Rocky Mountain House, Alta., Saskatchewan River Crossing, Donald, B.C. and Golden, B.C. Alberta already has finished its section of the proposed Howse Pass route.

TOT CHOKED TO DEATH BY WINDOW OF CAR

READING, Pa. (AP)—Terry A. Weist, two, of nearby Shoemakersville, was found strangled Wednesday in the rear seat of his family's car. His neck was clamped between the window glass and frame. His father, John Weist, said Terry apparently stuck his head out the window, then accidentally pushed a button operating the electric-powered window.

Indians Score Expropriation

WINNIPEG (CP)—A section of the Indian Act giving the right of expropriation of reserve lands to all levels of government was criticized here Wednesday at the third annual conference of the National Indian Council of Canada.

Carl Lewis of Toronto told delegates Section 35-1 of the act is "the crux of the Indian problem."

During a panel discussion on Indian and civil rights, Mr. Lewis said the section gave federal and provincial governments or any "half-baked" municipal reeve the right to expropriate neighboring reserve lands.

Under these circumstances the Indian saw no point in stability, he said. When his land could be taken away the Indian had no feeling of stability and no desire to improve his holdings.

The attack on the act came at the end of discussions in which there was general agreement there was a lack of civil rights for Canadian Indians.

SUGGESTIONS LACKING

However, no suggestions were made as to what remedial action should be taken.

Clive Linklater, a teacher at St. Pauls, Alta., did not agree there was always discrimination in the fact they were not given a provincial vote in Alberta.

He said this was not discrimination because they did not want the vote, and he requested in their treaties, because of a fear they would lose other rights.

Mr. Linklater also suggested the Indian did not want integration.

"I would like to suggest the words inter-association rather than integration."

Wilfred Bellegarde of Qu'Appelle, Sask., said certain individuals created the Indian problem and it did not apply to all Indians.

ARRIVALS A PROBLEM

Mrs. Ethel Brant Monture, a Mohawk employed by the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews, said: "I don't consider we are a problem. It is the people who came here who are a problem."

Mr. Linklater said "we shouldn't talk about the Indian problem, we should talk about the Indians' problems."

Chief Alfred Cook, president of the Manitoba Indian Brotherhood, said the Indian Act is subject to amendment or revision and the Indian is not notified of proposed amendments until they form part of the act.

He said the Indian should have the right, and be given notice in time, to make any representation for or against proposed amendments.

White persons are excluded from membership in the council and Indians employed by provincial or federal governments cannot hold office or vote in the organization.

Accountant Given Death In Russia

MOSCOW (Reuters) — A woman accountant on a Russian collective farm, who was often praised for keeping "brilliantly accurate books," has been sentenced to death for theft.

The newspaper Agricultural Life says the woman, Yulia Katskevich, and seven men, including the farm chief and farm officials, stood trial at Ternopol in the southern Ukraine.

HIDE THEFT

The gang forged documents and accounts to hide the theft of farm money.

The woman was said to have gained her post after working in a restaurant, where she also stole money.

She became renowned as one of the best accountants in the area and demonstrated her book-keeping methods at an exhibition of Russian achievements in Moscow.

A local farm official who checked her accounts "praised her after receiving a large bribe," the newspaper says.

The collective farm chief was jailed for 15 years and others received "long terms of imprisonment."

Civic Leaders Hot and Cold On Sweepstake

Greater Victoria's civic leaders today reflected a split appearing within the Union of B.C. Municipalities on the question of government lotteries to finance some services.

They differed in response to a declaration by Vancouver Mayor William Rathie that he will battle against resolutions from Kamloops and Langley when the UBCM meets Sept. 11-13 in Dawson Creek.

The two resolutions urged permissive legislation to establish federal or provincial lotteries and have been endorsed by a number of other municipalities already.

In past years the same question has been defeated by the UBCM but this year the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities gave qualified approval to the idea and a full-scale fight is expected to crop up at the B.C. convention.

AN EVEN SPLIT

A canvas of the four civic heads here showed an even split.

"This question has been debated for many years and I personally don't have strong feelings about gambling but I certainly would vote against the proposal," said Acting Mayor Arthur Dowell of Victoria.

"No doubt it is human to gamble but I don't think that any governmental bodies should directly encourage it."

"Nor do I feel that any government programs should be financed by going into gambling business."

Oak Bay Reeve George Murdoch said he could not speak for the Oak Bay delegates who will vote on the question but his personal opinion was decidedly against the resolutions.

However, Reeve Murdoch suggested a compromise might be reached by following the British government's lead in its government bond sales campaign "which is a lottery in a sense."

U.K. BOND LOTTERY

Under the British system, citizens can buy government bonds that do not carry any interest. But the government sets aside an amount equivalent to accrued interest and every few months holds a draw of bond numbers and distributes the fund as prizes.

"That seems to me to be a very good proposition," said Reeve Murdoch.

"It takes care of the penchant for gambling and still gives value for money spent in purchasing the bonds."

But Saanich Reeve Stanley Murphy said he would favor federal lottery.

"I would be against provincial lotteries because it would create an untenable situation unless all provinces did it, in which case it might just as well be a federal thing."

Reeve Murphy said the money could be used to help finance any of the public welfare programs.

Esquimalt Reeve A. C. Wurtele said he was against a straight lottery but would not oppose a sweepstakes duplicating the famous Irish Sweepstakes "if it was properly controlled."

He said he felt the money could go towards helping meet hospital costs as it does in Ireland.

Fraud Charge Laid Against Vacationer

SEATTLE (AP) — A complaint has been filed in justice of the peace court charging Harold Jolley, a former Everett tilesetter, with concealing and removing mortgaged property with intent to defraud.

Jolley, located in Trutch, B.C., said he took his wife and seven children to Canada for a vacation in May and they liked it so well they decided to stay.

A spokesman for the prosecutor's office said Jolley owed the Kirkland branch of the National Bank of Commerce $3,300 on a mortgage on a 1963 pickup truck.

The complaint was filed in the court of Justice of the Peace William Lewis July 5 by deputy prosecuting attorney William F. West, the prosecutor's office said.

Nothing had been heard of the family until Mrs. Hedy Lybbert, Mrs. Jolley's sister, wrote a Calgary newspaper last month to ask for help in finding them.

A widespread search ended at Trutch, a tiny settlement on the Alaska Highway, 600 miles northwest of Edmonton. Mr. and Mrs. Jolley had taken jobs and said they were planning to apply for visas to take up residence in Canada.

Mr. Jolley said they "just wanted to get away from it all... city life and the relatives."

POLE SITTER COAXED DOWN

VANCOUVER (CP)—An elderly man perched for half an hour on the crossbar of a power pole Wednesday while firemen with aerial ladders worked at coaxing him down.

A Hydro spokesman said Gerald Quirk, 61, was only inches away from live wires which would have killed him instantly. The pole carried 4,000 volts.

Fire Chief Arthur Young said it took 18 men with aerial ladders and a safety net half an hour to get him down from the perch he had reached by stepping off a hotel fire escape.

Quirk was taken to hospital and detained for psychiatric examination.

SPY PATROL MAKES IMPROVEMENT IN VANCOUVER

'Big Brother' Has Eye on Drivers

VANCOUVER (CP) — Wherever you drive in Vancouver—big brother is watching you drive.

So says Jim Plaskett, manager of the Vancouver Traffic and Safety Council and head of a 40-man "spy" patrol that reports unsafe drivers to the council.

He said Wednesday the recent safety campaign has awakened drivers to their bad habits and traffic violations have dropped noticeably.

"Under the present system we have 40 drivers with spotless records reporting the licence numbers of drivers they see violating traffic laws," he said. "At present we are sending out 15 letters a day to people who are reported."

We even have calls from people who don't belong to the patrol telling us about others' bad driving habits.

"It's actually more pleasant to drive in the city now because everyone is a little more courteous and mindful of their road manners."

Police and RCMP on the lower mainland are helping the council and giving the 40 "spies" hints on what to look for in others driving habits.

"So far the vast majority of calls on the campaign have been complimentary, and the few disgruntled individuals who complain about invasion of their rights are always at a loss to offer a better method of cutting down traffic deaths," said Mr. Plaskett, a former naval officer and statistician who joined the council in 1947.

Desegregation Order
NAIROBI (AP)—Kenya's new Negro government told exclusive European clubs Thursday the time has come to open their doors to all races. Home Affairs Minister Oginga Odinga called for desegregation to "avoid any more unpleasant incidents." His advice was interpreted as an ultimatum.

Trial to Follow Fatal Drag Race

A young man Wednesday was committed for trial on a charge of dangerous driving arising out of a drag race which ended in a fatality.

Ronnie Lim, 19, of 419 Powell, will be tried on the charge at the fall sittings.

Driver of the other car, Larry Neil, has already been committed for criminal negligence. Neil Kirby, a passenger in Neil's car was killed in an accident that ended the race.

Court was told that the section of road on which the race was held—the Rose Street extension behind the Mayfair shopping centre—was four-tenths of a mile long.

Const. Robert Peterson of Saanich police said it was quite easy to get a car up to speeds of 60 miles an hour from a standing start.

"The starter" of the race, Barry Neff, 551 View Royal, said that Lim missed his start. He said one car never travelled faster than 60, and that the other car's speed was about 80.

Bail was set at $1,000.

Runaway Race Car Injures Two Boys

WINNIPEG (CP)—A runaway stock car tore through a restraining fence at suburban Brooklands Speedway Wednesday night, smashing into first-row spectators.

Two boys, aged 11 and 14, each lost a leg as they were pinned under the vehicle, and three other persons were taken to hospital with injuries.

Car Mechanics Wage Rate Hiked

VANCOUVER (CP)—The minimum wage for workers in the automotive repair and gas service station industry has been increased to $2 an hour for mechanics and $1 an hour for others, nearly doubling old rates.

The Industrial Relations Board established the new rates Wednesday following hearings throughout the province.

The order, which establishes the same rates for male and female workers, replaces a previous order made in 1952 which set minimum rates at 90 cents an hour for mechanics and 55 cents for others.

INLET FISHING GOOD? JUST ASK THE WALTONS

Saanich fireman Bill Walton is providing proof to reports that Saanich Inlet is currently an angling hot spot.

Fishing Tuesday with son, Bill, and daughters, Brenda and Lorna, piloted his boat to a catch of 10 salmon, including springs of 22-04, 19-12, 16-14 and 14 pounds.

Father and son were out again Wednesday morning and picked up seven fish, topped by a 21½-pounder.

Many of the best catches this week have come from waters between Tod Inlet and Willis Point and it was from Tod Inlet last Sunday that Craig Booth took a 21:10-pound spring to win the Yarrows derby.

Mill Bay also yielded a big one Sunday—a 32:06-pounder landed by Les Hill.

Twins Hit Million Mark ... Again

New York Yankees' runaway in the American League apparently hasn't dimmed the enthusiasm of the fans in Minnesota where the Twins are making a strong fight to take over second place again.

A crowd of 25,014 in the Minneapolis-St. Paul area Wednesday boosted home attendance to 1,017,146—the third straight year the Twins have lured more than a million customers.

Last year, Minnesota's battle with the Yankees resulted in an all-time club record of 1,433,116. With 22 more home dates to go, the Twins could approach that figure.

The Yankees took a double beating from the Red Sox at Boston, 14-7 and 5-4, and Cleveland Indians nipped the second-place White Sox at Chicago, 1-0, in 11 innings on Willie Kirkland's homer.

Bernie Allen's single drove in the run that gave Minnesota Twins a 13th inning 2-1 edge over Baltimore Orioles.

The Yanks now are eight games in front of the White Sox. The Twins are nine and the Orioles 10½ games behind New York.

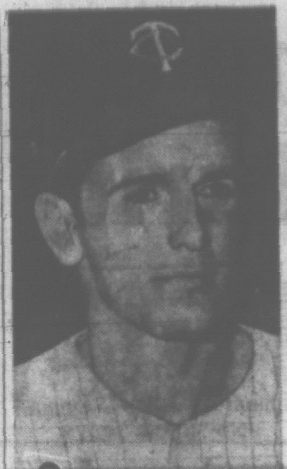

In the AL night games, the Angels beat Washington Senators at Los Angeles, 2-0, and Detroit Tigers whipped the Athletics at Kansas City 5-2.

Allen, benched most of the season for hitting .195, lashed a Stu Miller (4-7), serve into right field to score Vic Power, who had doubled, with the winner for the Twins.

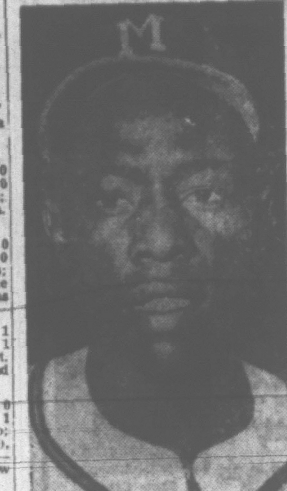

The Yankees saw their six-game victory streak ended by a barrage of 19 hits in the Boston daylight. Their four-run rally in the ninth inning fell short in the night.

Dick Stuart collected six hits and drove in six Boston runs, dividing it neatly to three and three for each game. The Sox first baseman clouted his 29th homer, a two-run shot in the eighth inning of the second game.

AARON CLOBBERS DODGERS

He leads the AL in runs batted in with 84.

The crowning blow, however, was relief pitcher Jack Lamabe's first hit of the season—a three-run homer in Boston's five-run seventh inning of the first game. This was enough to burn up the Yankees and in the eighth inning both manager Ralph Houk and pitcher Whitey Ford, who was on the bench, were ejected by plate umpire Joe Paparella.

If Los Angeles Dodgers are leaning on the panic button now that their stranglehold on the National League pennant race has been reduced to a toothhold, they can blame Hank Aaron. The Milwaukee Braves' slugger belted a grand slam home run Wednesday night that gave Milwaukee a 5-3 victory over Los Angeles and trimmed Dodgers' lead to three games over San Francisco Giants.

Aaron, the first in the majors this year to bat in 100 runs, hit his 32nd home run off Don Drysdale to cap a five-run seventh inning explosion that sent Dodgers reeling to their third consecutive loss and fifth in six games.

It was about this time last year that Dodgers began to stumble that ended when Giants defeated them in a playoff for the league pennant.

Since July 20 when they led the league by 7½ games and held a 10-game bulge on the defending champion Giants, Dodgers have managed a tepid 10-13 record. In three weeks, their lead has been trimmed by four games, and Giants have made up seven lengths.

"It's still a long way to go," said San Francisco manager Al Dark, who watched Giants get homers from Willie Mays and Willie McCovey but need a pinch-hit single by Felipe Alou to drive in the deciding run in a 7-6, 10-inning decision over fourth-place Cincinnati Reds.

Third-place St. Louis Cardinals closed to within four games of the top, edging Houston Colts 3-2 on Bill White's seventh inning homer. Philadelphia Phillies moved into a tie for fifth with Chicago Cubs, dropping Cubs 7-2 and 9-3. New York Mets defeated Pittsburgh Pirates 4-2.

Frannie's the Gal
In Rich Futurity

VANCOUVER (CP)—Frannie, a feather-footed filly running a sensational race for a two-year-old, Wednesday night captured the richest purse in Vancouver history before an Exhibition Park crowd of 6,668.

The daughter of Magic Morn led from wire to wire in the $11,200 British Columbia Futurity Stakes.

Her margin at the wire was two lengths, and her time for the six furlongs 1:12 2/5, fastest ever by a two-year-old at the park.

Second-favored George Royal closed with a rush to place second and Copper King was third.

Frannie's victory was worth $3,275 to owner Jim Halket and brought the filly's earnings for the season to $13,775.

"I heard Jack Short on the PA saying I was four in front so I pushed my feet against the dashboard," jockey Roger Trejos said of his ride into the home stretch. "Then I looked and saw Donnie (Don Richardson on George Royal) coming and I tapped the filly again."

WINNIPEG (CP)—For the first time in its 34-year history the Winnipeg Futurity had two winners Wednesday when Double Dove and Canadian Zenith finished in a dead heat.

Double Dove, owned by Cowell Martin of Calgary and Canadian Zenith, owned by Art Shade of Winnipeg each won $6,766. Art Shade received an extra $500 for being a Manitoba resident.

The seven-furlong race had a gross value of $16,915, the

55 Days in Jail ...And a Lecture

No Concern for Others Magistrate Tells Boy

A Victoria youth was sentenced to a total of 55 days in jail today for "disgraceful, criminal conduct."

The quotes are the magistrate's.

David A. Porter, 18, 3124 Yew, was charged with taking a motorcycle without the owner's consent, dangerous driving, and having no driver's licence.

Police said that Porter was pursued from the Mayfair shopping centre to Douglas and Burnside Aug. 6 at speeds up to 100 miles an hour.

Porter said he would like to pay for the damage.

Court was told that Porter was on probation for theft under $50. He was convicted in Oak Bay March 23.

"It's a miracle you weren't killed," Magistrate William Oester told him.

"The problem is that people like you usually kill others. This was disgraceful, criminal conduct."

Porter was sentenced to 30 days for stealing the motorcycle, 20 days for dangerous driving and five days for having no driver's licence.

The sentences are consecutive.

He was also forbidden to drive anywhere in Canada for three years.

COMMUNITY RESPONDS

Pain of Boy's Burns Soothed by Kindness

Keith Barker isn't lonely any more.

The nine-year-old Campbell River youngster, isolated with bad burns in St. Joseph's Hospital, has received "stacks" of mail since Wednesday afternoon, hospital officials said today.

And his parents will have things a little easier when they come down to visit him this weekend—they've been offered free accommodation at the Douglas Hotel.

The Barker family has been financially hard hit since Keith was burned in a gasoline explosion March 2.

Their savings are gone, their debts are mounting, and their son is alone, forbidden all visitors except his family.

Last weekend, for the first time since he went in, they were unable to come to see him, because the family pay cheque just wouldn't stretch that far.

Exemption Will Require B.C. Subsidy

Acting Mayor Arthur Dowell today said he doubted the Union of B.C. Municipalities will seek school tax exemption for old-age pensioners.

But elected officials would support efforts to obtain special provincial subsidies to help homeowners with no income but the old-age pension, he said.

A resolution proposing the tax exemption for persons living on the OAP alone will be voted on at next month's UBCM convention. The provincial OAP association already has lobbied city council to vote in favor.

Ald. Dowell pointed out that legislation exempting senior citizen low-rent housing projects from civic taxes had made a noticeable bite into Victoria's tax picture. Because of the high proportion of old age pensioners in Victoria, direct exemptions to individuals probably would have an even greater effect.

WOULD NEED AID

"Unless the provincial government subsidized it, I don't see how the city could underwrite such a tax exemption," he said.

Flyboys to Fill Air With Friday Frolics

The sky will be filled with airplanes Friday, when the Royal Canadian Air Force stages its biggest-ever show over Beacon Hill Park and the Dallas Road waterfront.

It will be Air Force Day, starting with a band concert in the park at 1 p.m. and roaring to a climax with the internationally famous Golden Hawks aerobatic team.

At 1:30 p.m., the air show will explode into action with a low level, high speed fly-past by a Voodoo jet from Comox Air Base.

Immediately following, a simulated air-sea rescue will be carried out, with fixed wing aircraft, helicopter and crash boat.

SUBMARINE EXERCISE

Next on the program, at 1:55 p.m., will be a submarine "hunt and kill" exercise with Neptune maritime patrol aircraft in the leading role.

At 2:20, solo aerobatics will be staged by the "Red Knight," followed at 2:40 p.m. by the Golden Hawks team effort.

All portions of the air show will be staged seaward of Dallas Road, with Finlayson Point at the centre.

Running commentary on the air show and explanation of the aerobatics will be carried over a loudspeaker system at Beacon Hill Park. Spectators out of reach of the PA can hear the same commentary over radio station CKDA.

FRIDAY MEETINGS

Victoria Lions Club: noon, Empress Hotel; Bob Waggoner, "Palm Desert."

"COIF" IS THE WORD for new headdress adopted by the Sisters of St. Ann—the first change since 1851. Sister Mary Nadine, left, shows long-familiar style; Sister Mary Norman wears the "new look." A Montreal designer produced the new styling, which gives better lateral vision, important in driving and perhaps more important in keeping an eye on students during classroom periods. ## Youth Orchestra Performs Beyond All Expectation

By AUDREY JOHNSON

Music-loving Victorians, lining the musicians could have been forgiven if their performance had been slightly below expectations.

But it was not. If anything, it exceeded them; because it simply is not possible to imagine how good they are.

BEST OF CLASS

The usual remarks have been made concerning the NYO being "the greatest" heard and unexcelled on the American continent. And if one is to judge by recordings, radio broadcasts and live concerts of various orchestras, it is probably as good as a majority of adult and better than any youth orchestra.

But such claims and comparisons are not really valid.

Toronto Symphony conductor Walter Susskind, founder and musical director of the NYO, has gathered 92 young players of extraordinary technical competence and musicianship.

GRANDDADDY IS 34

The youngest is aged 14 and the oldest was described by Susskind as "the granddaddy of them all," at 24.

They are unique in that they only meet together for a few weeks of the year and that there is inevitably some change of personnel from year to year, hailing as they do, from all parts of Canada.

Yet such is their training and dedication that they are able to present, as they did Wednesday night, that there is nothing more thrilling to the musical ear—the perfection of coordination in attack and phrasing, the richness of closely-wrought, cohesive sound that commonly takes several years to produce.

They have not as yet it was clear, either the musical or emotional maturity of the profounder aspects of a Brahms symphony.

BRAHMS IMPRESSIVE

But this does not mean that their Brahms No. 1 (substituted for the programmed Shostakovich First) was not a musical vital and generally impressive performance.

Weber's "Die Freischütz" Overture, opened the program and provided immediate intimation of the capabilities of the orchestra under the smooth, ample but restrained dynamism of its noted conductor.

"Lyric" by Canadian composer Harry Somers was not a piece to be enjoyed on first hearing but it developed virtuoso facets of performance through its orchestration.

A Suite by Hungarian composer Zoltan Kodaly, with its vivid changes of mood, rhythmic patterns and dynamics, held much interest and was frequently delightful.

The Gardens setting was as beautiful as ever and undoubtedly helped to draw the thousands. But musically speaking I am left with the desire to hear the orchestra indoors, minus amplification that was not always in balance.

NONE MISSED A NIGHT

None of the 92 ever missed one of the concerts that began at Stratford and ended Wednesday night in Victoria.

Only problem on the train was that everyone preferred the lower to the upper berth.

"We solved that by telling them if they slept in a lower one night they had to go up the next," laughs Mrs. Jay Armin of Windsor, Ont., traveling with group as orchestra "mother."

Her husband is also along as administrator and they are parents of three of the orchestra members including the concertmaster, Otto.

But, says Mrs. Armin, gazing proudly around at the assembled youngsters, "I don't feel more of a mother to my own three than I do to the whole orchestra."

BRASS SECTION had plenty of opportunity to show off mellow tone in contemporary works. Here, French horns (foreground), trumpets and trombones concentrate on difficult passage.

Trainload of Smiles Well-Tuned Youth Blow Happy Notes

National Youth Orchestra's 92 members defy the belief that musicians are temperamental monstrosities who can't get along together.

When they arrived in Victoria Wednesday afternoon after six weeks of 12-hour-a-day rehearsals and practice culminating in a 2,500-mile rail journey and seven major concerts, they were all good-humored and in happy mood.

"I don't recall a cross word being spoken during the entire journey," said one official traveling with the group.

BEST IN 25 YEARS

Mrs. F. Van Snell, a member of the board of 10 that manages the NYO Association, disclosed that Rod Brown, Canadian National special tours supervisor, has said that in 25 years of tour arrangements he has never experienced such a well-mannered pleasant-spirited group.

Conductor Walter Susskind was accompanied by his attractive young wife, and they are described as the best of trouper.

"They'd line up for the cafeteria, taking their turn and joking and laughing with the students," Mrs. Van Snell says.

"He's a strict disciplinarian as well as a wonderful conductor. The kids are devoted to him. If they were inattentive after a too-late night he'd give them a stern lecture, then everything would end up with a joke and a good laugh."

NONE MISSED A NIGHT

None of the 92 ever missed one of the concerts that began at Stratford and ended Wednesday night in Victoria.

Books that have been judged by their covers — and found excellent — will be displayed at Victoria Public Library Aug. 19 to 31. The display, arranged by the British Council for Canadian universities and libraries, includes 141 books and pamphlets selected for high-calibre production, involving binding, design, typography and illustrations.

Theft of about $45 from the cash drawer of the Oak Bay Bicycle Shop on Wednesday is attributed to two youths.

They entered the store, and while the attendant showed one some bicycles, the other stood by the counter, police were told.

When they left the shop, theft of the $45 was discovered.

Bi-monthly meeting of the Rosicrucian Order, Victoria Chapter, will be held in the Dominion Hotel Sunday at 8 p.m.

Realtor L. E. Pope, a registered appraiser, was recommended today as the city representative in a joint Victoria-Saanich commission which is to assess the monetary value of the Elk-Beaver Lake property.

He was recommended to city council by Mayor R. B. Wilson, Ald. Arthur Dowell and city manager Dennis Young acting as a selection committee.

The two councils agreed to appointment of a three-man commission to fix a price on the 700-acre city property as a starting point for negotiations on transfer of the land to Saanich as a park and recreational area.

Curtis Till was sentenced to 10 months' definite and four indeterminate on two charges in city police court today, the sentences to run concurrently.

He was charged with stealing cash from a box at Morrison Motors in Victoria, and with breaking and entering a Ganges general store.

Till pleaded guilty to the theft charge, and today changed his plea on the breaking and entering charge.

He had originally asked for a judge and jury trial.

RCMP Const. Robert Smith told the court that Till broke into the store, from which three pairs of shoes and a sweater were stolen.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Begin to Prepare for the 'Dear Old Golden Rule Days'

By PENNY SAVER

Mothers are beginning to look ahead to the beginning of September, even if their children aren't yet as bored with holidays as they might be.

Now's the time Mom, to purchase some of the items your children will be needing and perhaps give yourself illusions about the peace and quiet (and loneliness!) that will descend in three weeks time when school doors open again for another year.

Hardware store I was in today has plastic lunch boxes on sale for $1.97, that ordinarily sell for $2.49. They are made of pliable, unbreakable plastic and contain a vacuum bottle as well. Colors are black, red and blue.

You might like to stock up on jelly molds while you are in the store too. (There'll be more time to produce that kind of thing when the children are in school). These are large ones in several different shapes—one a fish. All are made of aluminum, very lightweight and priced at 59 cents.

Store has a good selection of cut glass stemware as well—from cocktail glasses to brandy snifters to hollow-stemmed champagne goblets. Most are 69 cents apiece but prices go up to 99 cents on some.

A few steps down the street is a men's wear shop which has a perpetual "bargain barrel" of shirts. It is kept filled with $6.95 and $7.95 shirts that are the ends of size ranges or in styles that are going out of season. But all are reduced to a sale price of $4.99.

'Hands Up' for Lovelier And Better Looking Hands

Here are the answers to some questions which keep coming across my desk. Many women want to know what to do about large veins in the hands. I am sorry that I cannot be more encouraging but this is usually an inherited characteristic. However there are some beneficial measures.

Do not wear sleeves that are tight at the elbows when you bend your arms. Exercise may be helpful since it improves circulation. Do not put your hands in hot water any more often than necessary. Whenever possible do so without looking ridiculous, hold your hands up with the fingertips toward the ceiling. You can do this quite often without notice. There is no need to let your hands rest in your lap or hang down at your sides.

Those little red capillaries in the thighs bother many women. These may be due to wearing clothing which is too tight. They can be removed by a dermatologist but the result is only temporary and it's a job. If you have a few, don't let them trouble you. You can

Nothing compliments the new soft bobs like the rakish tam. Once several years ago we had one, grew weary of its plainness and sewed lots of colored pearls all over. You can, too... or pin a blob of glitter on the band. That would be pretty, too.

DEAR ABBY...

He's a Lost Sheep!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: It's the same old story. Wife puts husband through four years of school, plus two years of dentistry, and now she has been outgrown. However, my story is more than this. I've taught school, born two children and am expecting another. My husband took up with a "beat" crowd and is now trying to "discover who he is—and what his purpose in life is." He was raised rigidly in the church, but he's forsaken it to experiment in a "free" way of life, which includes drinking and other women. We've been separated three months. (I took the children and went to his parents, 2,000 miles away—my parents are dead and I have no "family" of my own.) My husband now writes that he has taken up painting and intends to desert the career for which he was trained, because he can't handle the responsibility of a family until he finds out who he is and what his purpose in life is. I know I haven't been a perfect wife, but I was faithful, and put him through school. What am I to do?

TROUBLED.

DEAR TROUBLED: Your husband is either sick or a bad apple. His father should go after him and tell him who he is (a husband and father)—and explain that his "purpose" in life is to take care of his family. If your husband is sick, he should have treatment. If he's a bad apple, he should be cut off the family tree.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a person who goes into someone else's home and says, "My, it's cold in here!" Or, "My, it's hot in here!" I was taught that the temperature in one's home should not be criticized because it suits the people who are living there. If a guest comes into a home, shouldn't she forget about her own comfort and keep quiet if the temperature is not to her liking? I'd appreciate seeing this in the paper. Thank you.

INSULTED.

DEAR INSULTED: Personally, I would rather forego my own "comfort" and please my guests. I see nothing wrong with the temperature of a room. It makes more sense than shivering in silence, or attempting to fan oneself with a limp handkerchief.

DEAR ABBY: Is it true that in order to meet the qualifications of a true gentleman, a male, when out-tripping the light fantastic, must dance with each lady at his table? That is, if he knows his one, two, three, kick?

R.F.A.

DEAR R.F.A.: Today a man is considered a "hero" if he dances his wife once around the floor. If he goes in for the "one, two, three, kick" routine (to "qualify" as a true gentleman) he won't give the lady much pleasure—nor will he get much.

Tell your troubles to Abby. For a personal unpublished reply, please send a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Jockeying Cars Her Business

By MARGE GILROY

"Fasten your seat belt if you are going with Pearl," yelled a mechanic at Morrison's Motors as this reporter climbed into the cab of a light pick-up.

The driver, Pearl McIlwaine had just checked the score board and we were off to pick up another driver who was returning a serviced car.

This pick-up and delivery gal has been jockeying cars and trucks around for 13 years. She loves it. And she doesn't really mind the teasing. She knows that most of the boys would rather ride with her than anyone else.

"I like driving, I like people and I love being outside," she said as we wheeled out of the service station.

"When I return a car to one of our regular customers I know whether or not they want the car in the garage and if the keys are to be left under the seat, over the visor or in some peculiar spot.

"I get to know a lot of people on this job," she said, as she waved to a passing motorist and a bus driver after that.

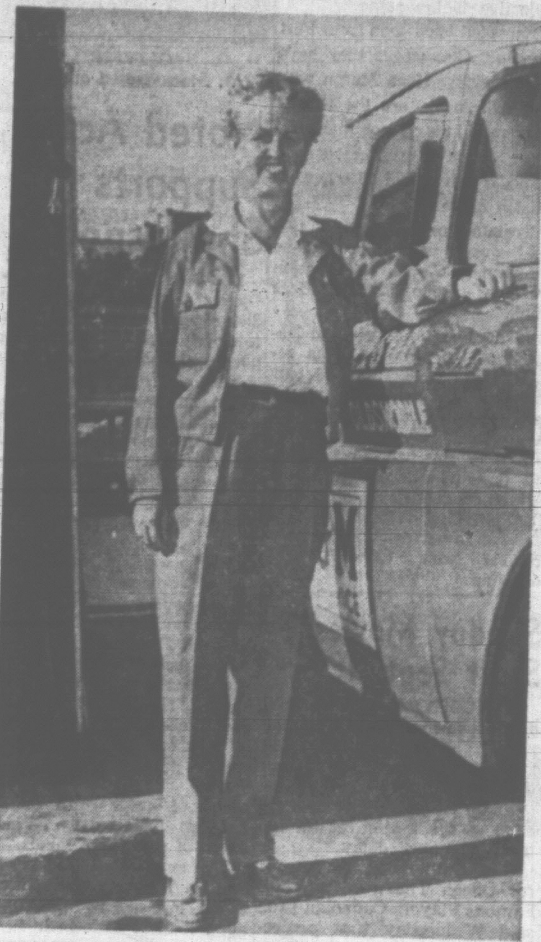

"Pearl are you there?" suddenly came booming out of the radio telephone on the dashboard. "There's a pickup stalled at the roundabout."

That was all we needed to hear. We were off in a new direction.

At the roundabout we jostled into position, tied the stalled vehicle onto ours and limped back to the station.

"Probably out of gas," said Pearl. Then she added, "you know more men than women get caught with an empty gas tank."

After that we buzzed off to pick up a driver returning another car and dropped him off again to bring in the first of a fleet of trucks to be serviced the next day.

Some men prefer a woman behind the wheel. That was what Pearl McIlwaine discovered when she was looking for a job 13 years ago.

In the 13 years that Pearl has been pick-up and delivery gal she figures she has clocked off one million miles and has only had one accident. That happened last year when someone else came through a red light and sent her flying into a bus.

She prefers driving trucks to cars. Ride with her and it is easy to understand her reason — it is more reassuring to look down on another vehicle than up at one.

Her comments on the drivers and pedestrians in Victoria are not original — "You just never know where they are going to go next."

It was during her four years in the air force in the Second World War that Pearl learned to be a professional driver. While overseas, she drove ambulances, trucks, and anything on wheels.

After the war she returned to her old job of dipping chocolates, but soon became restless. She went to England with a friend and worked in a beauty parlor for two years giving facials and doing manicures.

Then it was back to her home town — Victoria, where she found her present job. Occasionally Pearl takes a busman's holiday when it comes vacation time and goes away for a trip but usually her time off is spent nearby, fishing and swimming.

She is a real out-door gal and a sharp-shooter at that. At least I hope so. She is a member of a revolver club.

Right now she is doing double checks on her budget to see if she can manage somehow to buy a plane. Perhaps she is looking forward to the day when pick-up and delivery may mean air transport.

Pearl McIlwaine is unique in one other field. She is one of the few people in this day and age to keep a diary. The boys back at the station better watch what they say — it may be recorded for posterity.

ON-THE-SPOT SANDWICH

Instead of making sandwiches for a picnic before leaving home, why not consider making them "on-the-spot." The children will enjoy experimenting with different flavor combinations. Grown-ups will welcome sandwiches that are freshly made. First, slice a crusty loaf, butter the slices, and put them together again. Then slip the loaf into a polythene bag for easy carrying. By bringing along an assortment of cold cuts, cheeses, hard-boiled eggs, peanut butter and jam you're bound to have at least one favorite filling for everyone.

Princess Awoke to Teens at Sea

LONDON (UPI)—Princess Anne, who leaves home soon for boarding school, stepped into the teenage world today with a 13th birthday party aboard the royal yacht Blood-hound.

The princess awoke to find the vessel underway for Aberdeen, Scotland, from where she will go to Balmoral to spend her summer vacation with her mother, Queen Elizabeth.

Prince Philip and Prince Charles, the 14-year-old heir to the throne, opened the princess' day with a shipboard rendition of "Happy Birthday to You."

The slim, blonde-haired Anne won't have her "real party" until she reaches Balmoral and is reunited with her mother, a Buckingham Palace spokesman said.

She will then cut the pink and white cake Elizabeth's chef, Ronald Aubrey, plans to bake in honor of the occasion.

One guest who will get a slice of the cake—and for a very special reason—is the princess' pet corgi terrier, Sherry.

Anne will have to leave

Sherry behind when she reports to Balmoral, the private boarding school to which she reports Sept. 20.

The $1,344-a-year fee does not entitle even a royal princess to bring her puppy. Up until now Anne has studied under private tutors and a governess, the same type of education received by the Queen and Princess Margaret.

But Anne and Charles, who will be 15 on Nov. 14, are both trail-breakers. Charles was a student at Cheam and is now enrolled at Gordonstoun School in Scotland.

There was no indication yet what presents the princess received today or whether everything would be held over until the Balmoral Party.

Presents or not, this was a day of the type Anne loves to spend. She dotes on sailing, riding and adventures of all sorts.

She is exceptionally fond of her father and is said to have the same forthright manner and quick intelligence. Philip, it is known, had no hesitation in giving his only daughter a spanking when she was naughty.

Now she's a teen-ager and her conduct is more subdued. Whether the spell will last for the seven years she must spend in the teenage state remains to be seen.

She has lately taken to going to West End theatres with Prince Charles and following other grownup pursuits. And, to everyone's surprise and pleasure, it was Anne, and not such notable scene-stealers as Princess Margaret and Queen Fredrika of Greece, who held everyone's eye at Princess Alexandra's Westminster Abbey wedding in April.

Women Take Fewer Risks Than Men on Stock Market

TORONTO (CP)—Women aren't gamblers and don't panic if their shares take a fall and this makes them better players on the stock market, says a Toronto broker.

Roy Nose of A. E. Osler Company, who lectures on the principles of wise stock buying, says: "Women do not take as many risks as men and so tend to be very successful in the stock market. They do not tend to panic if the price drops and hold on to their shares far longer than men—being reluctant to take a loss in their capital investment."

Violet Cook, one of the few women brokers in Canada, says widows, housewives and businesswomen between the ages of 27 and 35 do most of the investing among women.

And their numbers are increasing steadily. Brokers agree that many more would play the market if they realized advice is readily available and that brokers, like bankers, are there to serve the public.

Mr. Nose recommends investment clubs for those who cannot afford to buy shares on their own.

The clubs are formed by groups of employees or neigh-

Canadian Film Wins Festival

A Canadian movie, "Circle of the Sun," won first place in Victoria's International Film Festival, which ended Wednesday night.

"Rogers Pass," produced by the provincial highways department, was adjudged the best B.C.-produced film.

The winning movie, a National Film Board entry, was seen by an audience of more than 1,500 at the final night of the festival in Beacon Hill Park.

Produced by Colin Low of Montreal, it is a magnificent color presentation of the life and customs of the Blood Indians of Southern Alberta. "Nahanni," another National Film Board production with an Indian theme, won the festival prize for the best geographical and anthropological film.

Runner-up at the festival was the U.S. production, "The Real West." More than 22,000 persons are estimated to have attended 21 outdoor performances since the festival began July 1. Ald. Arthur Dowell, the city council's finance chairman, said he would recommend that the city council back the festival next year.

The council became chief financial backer of the festival this year when the National Film Board withdrew as its major sponsor after two years. "It gives me a great thrill to know the festival is really wanted here," said program director Paschal O'Toole.

Other award-winning films, with country of origin and category, were: Progress Reported, Ireland; Industrial; Borgo a Mozzano, Italy; agriculture and natural resources; The Four Seasons, Switzerland, filming as an art; World's Fair, United States, special award; Another Sunny Day, Australia, travel; River of Life, United Kingdom, nature; Under Night Streets, United Kingdom, people.

FATHER CLARK... 'hoodlum priest' dies

Befriended 3,500 Ex-Convicts

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Rev. Charles Dismas Clark, 62-year-old Hoodlum Priest who helped rehabilitate about 3,500 ex-convicts, died of a heart attack today.

He had been a patient at St. Mary's Hospital for the last 19 days.

The Jesuit priest believed so strongly in the basic good of man, that he adopted his middle name in honor of the Good Thief who died on the cross beside Christ. He also gave that name to his rehabilitation centre, Dismas House, located in a 91-year-old former school building near downtown St. Louis.

About 2,000 former convicts passed through the centre, an average of about 500 each year since he started the Father Dismas Clark Foundation in 1959. The centre handles about 60 ex-convicts at a time. Friends put up $40,000 to purchase the old school building.

Cuba Invasion Veterans Plan Another Blow

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Veterans of the 1961 Cuban invasion are preparing for another blow against Fidel Castro.

The more than 1,000 survivors of the thwarted invasion have split into several organizations operating separately, but their objective is the same.

Expected back soon from Fort Benning, Ga., where they have been training since March with the U.S. Army, are the Bay of Pigs military commanders, Jose Perez San Roman and Emedio Oliva, and 70 other invasion officers.

Training under another special army program, at Fort Jackson, S.C., is an invasion veterans group of non-officer rank.

Manual Artime, "civilian leader" of the invasion, was reported on a 16-city U.S. tour meeting war exiles and others in connection with revolutionary plans.

Artime has announced that his Revolutionary Recovery Movement (MRR), will establish anti-Castro bases soon in Central America. He recently returned from a central American tour.

Sunday Movies Start Sept. 1

VANCOUVER (CP)—Sunday movies, approved by the people of Vancouver last December, start at chain theatres Sept. 1.

Union negotiations were cited as the major reason for the nine-month delay.

G. A. Sutherland, spokesman for Odeon Theatres Ltd. and Famous Players Canadian Ltd., said Wednesday that projectionists have come to terms with the theatres, ending all company-union disagreement.

Most of the dozen movie houses involved will run shows continuously from 2:30 p.m.

Broadway Playwright, Odets, Dies at 57

Noted Actor Supports Shakespeare

LONDON (AP)—Sir Laurence Olivier says the move to open Shakespeare's tomb at Stratford-on-Avon is a "clod-hopping, jack-booted outrage."

The noted Shakespearean actor and director of the British National Theatre was incensed at reports he might support the drive.

Advocates of such action contend it might prove whether Shakespeare wrote the plays credited to him or whether they were the work of Marlowe, Bacon or someone else, as some people believe.

Sir Laurence authorized the National Theatre to say: "His belief is profound that Shakespeare wrote the plays himself. He considers that doubts about this are promoted by lack of faith in the possibility of genius in the human species, in any temple to the ascent of man's worth building, and are exercised by considerations of pedestrian minds."

The tomb is at Holy Trinity Church. The vicar, Rev. Thomas Bland, has said he would never allow it to be disturbed.

Girl Singers To Perform

A 16-member girls' glee club from Smithers, B.C., will give a half-hour concert at 7:30 p.m. Friday, before the regular Sunset Show at Butchart Gardens.

In the spotlight at the 8:30 p.m. Sunset Show will be the Pipes and Drums of the Canadian Scottish Regiment (Princess Mary's), Victoria Girls' Drill Corps and other entertainers.

Bank Theft Suspects Held

VANCOUVER (CP)—A man and a woman, both Americans, were arrested Wednesday in connection with a $3,400 bank robbery Tuesday.

Police said the pair had more than $2,000 with them when arrested. The man was 46 and the woman, a former bank teller, 37.

Witnesses of the robbery of the Toronto-Dominion Bank in the Shaughnessy district said a man entered the branch from a car driven by a blonde shortly before the holdup.

The holdup man had folded a newspaper over his hand as if he was hiding a gun. No charges have been laid.

School Sex Lecture, Movie Get Tentative Board Approval

Greater Victoria school trustees listened to a sex lecture and watched a film on the subject Wednesday night.

Decision whether to adopt a pilot program in high schools will be made at a later board meeting. But initial reaction appeared favorable.

The demonstration was presented by Greater Victoria metro health officials. They have urged the board to follow in the footsteps of Fraser Valley school district in giving the program to segregated high school groups.

The 20-minute color film took a clinical approach. A tape recording of a lecture to a group of girls by a doctor, and a question-and-answer period, was included.

Three points were raised by various board officials after the demonstration: that the step should be cleared with the clergy; approved by the parents; and some other name than Sex Education be used as a title for the program.

Carrier Command

Jingle Pot Mothers Irked Again

WELLINGTON — Mothers of children at Mount Benson School are wondering what has happened to a promised overpass at the Jingle Pot - Island Highway intersection.

At a special meeting last June, Comox MLA Dan Campbell assured the mothers the overpass would be built before school re-opens in September. School re-opens Sept. 3 but there is still no sign of the overpass on the school crossing.

"We are beginning to wonder," said Mrs. F. O. Murphy. "There are rumors the plan has been ditched."

A six-year-old boy was killed at the intersection in January. Mothers then picketed the crossing with large signs and personally escorted their children over it four times a day.

"It looks as if we will have to continue escorting them," Mrs. Murphy said.

DUNCAN — Only six entries have been received so far in the Jaycee-sponsored beauty contest for the Cowichan exhibition.

The contest will be held in the auditorium of Cowichan Senior Secondary School Aug. 31.

Candidates to date are Barbara Hudson, 18, Maple Bay; Sharon Williamson, 17, Duncan; Maurine Sked, Patricia Milino, Diana Milino and Sandra Jones.

CAMPBELL RIVER — One of the most exclusive clubs in the world will hold its annual meeting here Saturday. The Tyee Club of B.C. will meet at Painter's Spit Camp on Saturday afternoon at 2. Directors, from all parts of North America, will meet to elect new officers and award trophies for 1962 catches.

Only those who have caught a Tyee salmon (a salmon over 30 pounds) on lightweight tackle approved by the club and under conditions set down by club rules, can be a member.

NANAIMO — Brenda Benson of Nanaimo has returned from a modified sportsman auto race in Edmonton as a runner-up in the Miss Gold Cup Contest there.

Crowned Miss Grandview Bowl earlier this year, Miss Benson represented Mid-Island Racing Association in the contest.

LAKE COWICHAN — Annual regatta at Lake View Park Aug. 25, will be highlighted by an aerobatic display by the "Red Knight," solo artist of the RCAF's nationwide airshow.

Powerboat and swimming races will make up the major portion of the regatta which is sponsored by the Lake Cowichan Kiwanis Club.

DUNCAN — Canadian National Railways on Vancouver Island has reduced its normal five-day service in the Cowichan, Deerholme and Youbou areas. The railway said industrial expansion will have to take place before it will be profitable to operate in the area. The lessening CNR activity follows recent loss of haulage contacts to trucks.

LADYSMITH — The local branch of the Royal Canadian Legion sponsored a benefit movie, Sunday, for John Halliday and his four-year-old son, Leo, the lone survivors of a fire which swept through their Ladysmith home, July 21, killing Mrs. Halliday and her two small daughters.

NANAIMO — The Nanaimo Old Age Pensioners Association has appointed a special committee to fight to retain the now disused Nanaimo Hospital as a chronic care institution.

A call for action was made at a special meeting of the association Tuesday by President Joe Sutton who said officials must be shown that "We mean business."

He received thunderous applause from 200 pensioners when he said: "Give me a dozen men and we'll tear the boards off the old hospital doors and walk in."

UCLEULET — A carnival atmosphere covers the town today at the beginning of a three-day annual celebration featuring a salmon barbecue, midway games and rides at the Ucleulet recreation grounds.

Reigning over the celebration is Darlene Paterson, who was crowned queen at the Clayquot sports day last July 1. She will officially open the closing ball at 10 p.m. Saturday.

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—A tall, red-headed, easy-moving gal with a skirt slit very high, and a telescope-looking cigarette holder about two feet long, came out on to the floor at the Copacabana before what can be the latest audience in the world.

She was the biggest hit since Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis burst upon us from the old Riviera in New Jersey maybe 15 years ago.

Kay Stevens made the word "sensation" very inadequate. You may have been confused about all the girls named Kay and all the girls named Stevens but don't be any more.

She clowned, sang, puckered, nudged, swaggered and bumped so adorably and warmly that was written by Charlie Dickens, better known as Chuck Dickens, "about a kid that had no daddy, no mummy; nobody loved him, nobody understood him. He was kinda like a married man."

Red Buttons, Jack E. Leonard, sat on his knee and wakened him. She sang a song from "Oliver", explaining "for the hippy crowd" that "Oliver!"

Kay Stevens, a Cleveland native, lately of Margate, Fla., is thirtyish; she was with Danny Kaye in "The Man From the Diners' Club."

Kay's so brilliant, so poised, so delightful (and I've never even met her yet!) that Jerry Lewis wants her to do his new TV show regularly. Sign her quick, Jerry. Her price is going up by the second.

Frank Sinatra, Jr., crashes the N.Y. scene in a very few weeks with the Tommy Dorsey orchestra—it'll play the Americana Royal Box. . . . CBS TV has problems with another show: George C. Scott and "East Side, West Side." After doing half a dozen shows, CBS brass said, "Let's look at this awhile"—and halted production temporarily. . . . Edie Adams is talking to Rod Serling about doing "Rain" on TV. Marilyn Monroe was never able to do the Serling version because she was suddenly hospitalized. Edie recently did the stage version in Warren, O., and is hot for the idea as it would raise her status as an actress.

A guy—but only one, I assure you—was asleep ringside. She ling the sexy secretary role all this week and as a result is attracting new movie and TV offers. She wears false hair and eyelashes in the part—but that's all.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: "Remember," recalls Copacomic Sammy Shore, "when a redemption centre wasn't for trading stamps, but a house of worship."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "A psychiatrist is a man who knows you have the same troubles as he has himself." Dublin Opinion.

EARL'S PEARLS: Morty Gunty, the teacher-turned-comedian, once asked a pupil, "How many make a dozen?"

"Twelve," the pupil replied. "And how many make a million?" Morty asked. The kid snapped, "Not many."

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "Love of money is the root of half the evil in the world. Lack of it is the root of the other half." Quote.

That's earl, brother.

TEEN-AGE CANADA

Let's Record Youth Orchestra

By JACK HUTTON

Well, here we go again. This column is now going to stick out its neck.

I wonder why no one has yet been bold enough to capture on record (yes, even a commercial one) the sound of the most exciting experiment in Canada today.

No one, of course, could possibly have any doubts about what I'm referring to—the 92-member National Youth Orchestra.

The orchestra left Toronto last weekend, leaving a string of audiences still cheering hoarsely. It was, by anyone's standards, probably the biggest musical success Ontario will have this summer.

The tour (you may have seen the group already) includes Winnipeg, Saskatoon, Edmonton, Calgary, Vancouver and Victoria. Once again—and I complained about this last year—the orchestra isn't going east.

But there are always other years to expand those plans. The exciting thing this summer is that an orchestra with an average age of 17 among its members has proven that it can handle music that frightens even hardened professionals.

Critics Enthusiastic

As one critic remarked: "They performed works by Weber, Somers, Holst and Brahms with a professionalism not often heard in the major orchestras. They even made the National Anthem seem an integral part of their program."

Are they that good? You're right; they are that good, according to every professional musician who has listened to either the rehearsals or concerts of the NYO.

This brings me to my argument. How are we going to remember the 1963 version of the NYO in any accurate way unless we can hear the music, recorded by professionals?

The orchestra doesn't seem to be suffering for lack of funds. But wouldn't a commercial record help to swell the coffers? This might even subsidize a wider tour.

The other advantage of a record is that young music-lovers on the east coast could hear the music of the NYO, even though they might miss seeing the group in person.

Who would buy the record? Well, I would. And you probably would. And it's a safe bet that every member of the orchestra would buy a copy.

I would be willing to bet here and now that a commercial record featuring the highlights of the 1963 summer concert series would be one of the most successful records sold in Canada this year.

There may be good arguments proving that it would be impossible or a bad thing to record the NYO. If there are, I haven't heard them. And I'd be interested in hearing your point-of-view.

Babysitters

Sharon Easton, 15, of Halifax, N.S., read a column of mine several weeks ago suggesting summer jobs. Apparently I didn't do her a good turn.

"Well, thanks for nothing, Jack," she writes. "I hadn't intended to earn any money this summer, but I decided after reading your column that I'd try baby-sitting a few evenings each week."

"A girl friend and I discussed it and decided to share the responsibility. People would phone her home number and she assigned jobs to me, trying to make sure that we each had a few free nights a week."

"I have never had such an education. On my very first job I wound up with five children, ranging in age from five months to seven years old. Talk about a handful!"

"What made it worse was that the couple came home later than they had promised to, but didn't feel that they should pay me any extra money. I didn't argue with them because they'd been drinking pretty heavily."

"I wanted to quit right then, but my girl friend talked me into trying another evening. What happened this time? The wife tried to claim that I'd opened a can of soup while they had been out. I was so mad that I refused to take any money."

"I'm just writing, Jack, to say thank you very much—but I think I'll stay in the teen-age world for a while longer."

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy. Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes. The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Andy sends a complete, 20-volume set of World Book Encyclopedia to Ran Coble, 14, Graham, N.C., for his question:

What is radioactive half life?

The half life is a measure of the rate of decay of a radioactive substance. It is the period of time in which half a supply of radioactive material will decay and become a different substance. Each of the different radioactive substances decays at its own rate, and nothing we know of can speed up or slow down its rate of decay. Each radioactive material has its own half life.

Every hospital keeps a supply of radium for treating certain patients. Pure radium is a silvery white metallic element. The hospital uses salty crystals of radium compounds, usually radium chloride or radium bromide. The element radium and its compounds are highly radioactive, which means that its atoms are breaking apart and becoming atoms of something different. The cost of radium is about $25,000 a gram, and it takes 32 grams to equal one ounce. And every gram of this costly material is steadily decaying. In exactly 1,620 years, half of every gram of radium will no longer be radium. Some of the radium will break into smaller atoms of radon gas and some will be given off as radioactive energy.

We say that the half life of radium is 1,620 years because, after this time, half of every gram of radium has decayed. You might suppose that the other half gram decays in the next 1,620 years, but this does not happen. The half life of the half gram of radium is still 1,620 years. After this time, one-quarter gram has decayed and one-quarter gram remains. In the next 1,620 years, the quarter gram is reduced by half, and so the original supply of radium goes on getting smaller and smaller by halves.

Breaks Into Smaller Atoms

The half life of uranium 238 is four and a half billion years. The atoms of radon which form as radium decays have a half life of 3.82 days. Some radioactive materials have half lives measured in millions of a second. Each radioactive substance decays at its own rate, and its half life cannot be changed.

Any atom of radium can decay at any time. But the fabulous numbers of tiny atoms obey the law of averages. Of the teeming atoms in a pinch of radium, only a certain number explode each second, which is why decay proceeds at a fixed rate.

Uranium 238 heads a long chain of radioactive decay. Its atoms break into smaller and smaller atoms until they become lead, which is not radioactive. In the process of decay, the atoms lose alpha and beta particles and give forth searing streams of radioactive energy.

Oral submission in a former B.C. ferries manager's appeal against dismissal in June were concluded Tuesday by a Civil Service Commission appeal board.

Commission member J. Everett Brown, deputy minister of municipal affairs, said further written reports would be received before the appeal of Jack Washer, ex-manager of Departure Bay terminal, is concluded.

Mr. Washer, fired after a series of toll thefts by an employee who later admitted theft by conversion, was represented by counsel in the closed hearings.

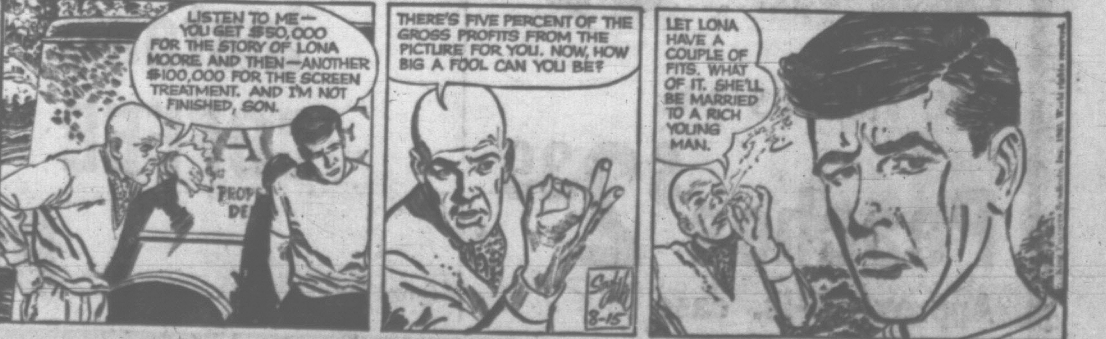

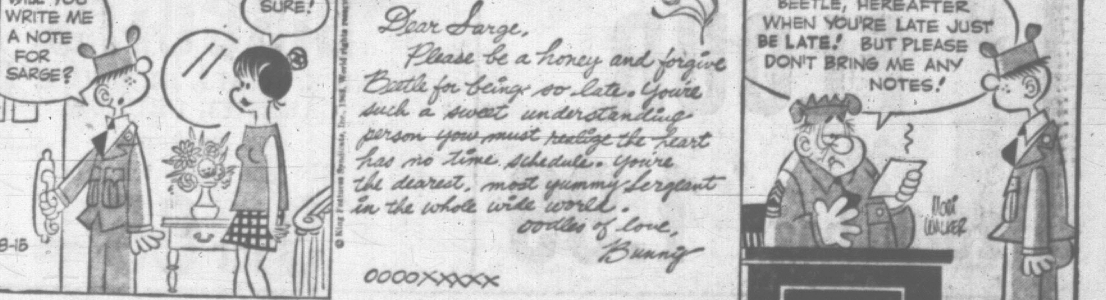

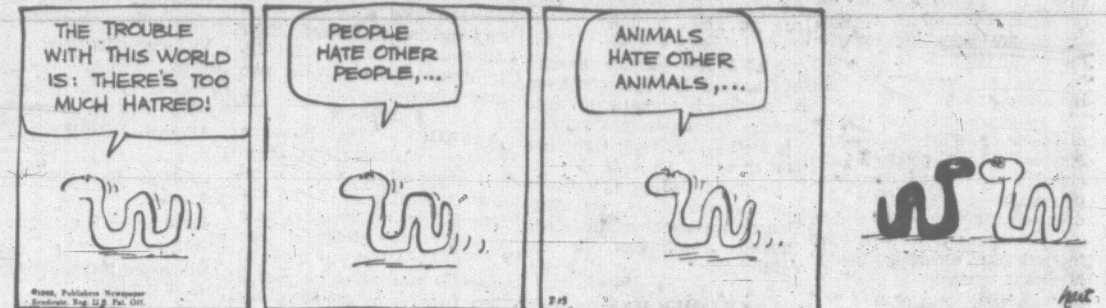

Mr. Brown said he could not estimate when the board's decision might be expected, nor how it would be reported.

Deputy minister of social welfare Ray Rickinson is the other member of the board hearing Mr. Washer's appeal, which opened Monday.

Rail Chiefs Indicted

BOSTON (AP)—Four men, including the president and former president of the Boston and Maine Railroad, have been charged with profiting illegally from a railroad deal.

The indictments accused the railroad officers of making a personal profit of $71,500 from the non-competitive sale of 10 stainless steel railroad cars.

Sockeye Haul One-Third Normal

VANCOUVER (CP) — The strike by Canadian fishermen has dropped their sockeye salmon catch so far this year to about one-third of American landings, it is indicated by figures released Wednesday.

The number of sockeye caught in convention waters to Aug. 12 was 1,263,032 by U.S. fishermen, 447,806 by Canadians, said the report of the International Pacific Salmon Fisheries Commission.

The catch normally is about even between crews out of U.S. and Canadian ports.

Pink salmon landings were 869,541 by Americans and 382,755 by Canadians.

The strike lasted from July 13 to Aug. 3.

Lofty Atmosphere Bar to Radiation

By ALTON BLAKESLEE

LOS ANGELES (AP) — High over your head floats a curious "chemical kitchen."

It is the earth's high, thin atmosphere, a life-saving umbrella shielding humans from lethal x-rays and powerful ultraviolet radiation streaming from the sun. The sun stirs this air into curious chemical and physical reactions.

Scientists today summed up new knowledge of this region, gained during and since the International Geophysical Year of 1957-58. The new information was learned to a great extent from earth satellites and sounding rockets.

Dr. Marcel Nicolet of Brussels, Belgium, has discovered the region contains an unsuspected layer of helium at an altitude of about 600 miles. The first clue came from the drag effects of Echo, the balloon satellite. The particular drag could come only from an element heavier than the hydrogen, but lighter than the atomic oxygen known to exist there, he said.

When the sun is energetic in sunspot activity, the helium belt may be 1,000 miles thick. When the sun is "quiet as is now is becoming, the helium belt shrinks to 100 to 200 miles in thickness, he said.

ESTABLISH LIMITS
Before IGY, the earth's atmosphere was known to stretch at least 600 miles high. Now, it is found that part of it extends 20,000 miles in extremely tenuous form. Dr. Nicolet told a symposium on results of the IGY.

The U.S. Vanguard satellite showed the temperature of the high, thin air to be 3,300 degrees by day when the sun was active, cooling to 2,100 degrees at night, Dr. Nicolet said. Now, when the sun is quieting down and producing less of its specialized heating effects up there, the daytime temperature is down to about 1,500 degrees.

This is all "air" temperature, but there are so few atoms of gases, that you wouldn't feel the heat. The atoms, in fact, are travelling so fast, that every second 10,000,000 hydrogen atoms escape into space over every square centimetre of atmosphere. A square centimetre is about one-fourth the size of a regular postage stamp. Some helium also escapes.

The supply is replenished, though, from water vapor on earth and radioactive decay of rocks, Dr. Nicolet said.

Women Blister Church's Attitude

TORONTO (CP) — The Anglican Church's attitude toward women got a thorough blistering Wednesday night when nearly 200 women gathered to discuss their role in the church at the Anglican World Congress here.

There were calls for the ordination of women into the ministry and a greater appreciation of the changed position of woman in modern society.

The women were delegates to the congress or wives of delegates from many of the nations which make up the 44,000,000-member Anglican communion. But some of the sharpest criticism came from a representative of the host city.

"We've had enough of the church's spiritual glorification of the mother's role, the image of the Lord of pots and pans," said Mrs. Graham Cotter, wife of the executive secretary of Toronto's diocesan council for social service.

"I think it's a cheap way of keeping us quiet," Mrs. Cotter said. Many women have a dual role as wife and worker, but the church did not recognize that role.

"We must realize that half the children in a class at school wear keys around their necks to let themselves into an empty house after school. Sunday is the perfect opportunity for this busy, divided family to experience a living personal relationship together."

Instead, the children were sent to a basement nursery before the services or stayed home with one parent while the other attended services. "And very often the sermon has no relation at all to the actual lives of the people who hear it," Mrs. Cotter said.

An Indian delegate commented: "You American women do not get full recognition in the church because your remarkable efficiency makes you a real hazard to the men."

Mrs. Robert Durham, a volunteer worker in Michigan, told the meeting: "The church's ministry to women has been primarily the image of wife and mother. Now it must meet new demands—the demands of the single woman, the professional woman, the working mother, the mobile young family, and neglected minority groups."

Church Must Sweep Out Social Evils

TORONTO (CP) — The Christian church has social evils that need sweeping out of its own house before it can deal with ailments outside such as warfare and racialism, the Anglican World Congress was told today.

The removal of hatred and strife from the world can come only after "the church has repented in dust and ashes for its failure to manifest love in its own life," said Rt. Rev. John W. Sadiq, Bishop of Nagpur, India.

But love means concern for humanity and thus he called on the congress to denounce war as "an offence against God" and to "make common cause" with peace organizations. Church unity is essential as an example to a world divided by national barriers, he said.

Bishop Sadiq and a panel of speakers opened discussion among Anglicans representing more than 70 nationalities and many races on the church's role in politics—in racism, social justice, international relations and poverty. The race issue arose while U.S. delegates were divided over their own civil rights controversy.

JUST LOOKING is one form of activity, as this snapshot indicates. It was taken by T. F. Coverdale, 3576 Elliston, and won first prize in the Activities section of the sixth week of the Times amateur snapshot contest. Grand prize winners will be announced Saturday after final judging.

Capital Gains Tax Urged To Aid Low Income Group

VANCOUVER (CP) — Max Bell, chairman of FP Publications, Wednesday proposed a series of bills in the Canadian tax base that would tend to lift the weight from the low-income families and spread it over a wider area.

Speaking before the Tax Commission, he favored a tax on capital gains, though "a lot of my friends are hardly my friends as a result of it." But, he said, since the state needs money, the realized income from capital gains "certainly could bear some of the cost of running the community."

20 PER CENT

Mr. Bell's proposals included a suggestion of a 20 per cent increase in the 11 per cent federal sales tax, and elimination of about 1,500,000 taxpayers, who earn less than $3,000 a year, from the tax rolls. There would still be enough surplus to reduce the tax rate in the "extreme upper brackets."

The $160,000,000 saved by the low-income taxpayers, he said, would immediately be plowed into consumer goods, increasing revenue from sales taxes, and providing stimulus in the market. Any relief in the upper-income bracket would find its way into capital or resources investments.

He estimated that the increased sales taxes would bring in about $200,000,000, and since this would be spread over the $30,000,000,000 earned in wages each year, it "would hardly constitute a serious obstacle to the consumer spending area of the economy." In addition, there would be administrative savings with 1,000,000 fewer persons on the tax rolls.

Mr. Bell said some relief should be provided for Canadians who sink their money into the development of resources, such as writing off losses that occur in unsuccessful projects. "If there is anything to this business of Canadian participation in their own resources, there has to be some relief from taxes."

'SINGLE AGENCY FOR TAXATION'

By STEWART MACLEOD

VANCOUVER (P) — The division of taxation authority among three federal departments is no longer warranted, the Vancouver Board of Trade said today as it asked the royal commission on taxation to recommend a tightening at the top.

"It would appear axiomatic that sound tax policies and laws should be formulated and implemented by the same agency," said the board. "There exists too wide a division of authority between these various departments of government."

Under the existing system, the administration of tax laws is handled by the revenue department, the formulation of tax policy is the responsibility of the finance department, and the department of justice drafts the tax laws.

The board's brief to the commission said a closer alignment of government functions might result in better tax policies.

It also suggested that a tax research division be established within the finance department to carry out a continuing analysis of Canadian tax policies. The results should be available for public study.

Limiting governmental expenditures to a percentage of the GNP might provide an effective indicator of the amount that can be safely collected through taxation, it said.

The board called for complete neutrality for all taxpayers, and it singled out co-operatives and public-owned utility companies as organizations that escape with a lighter tax load than competitors. It also said that charitable organizations engaged in active commercial business are exempt from tax while private firms in the same business must pay.

Any income earned in the carrying out of a commercial business activity should be treated the same for tax purposes.

DOUKHOBORS CONSIDER RETURN HOME

VANCOUVER (CP) — The possibility of Sons of Freedom Doukhobors returning to their Kootenay homes may be discussed Saturday night in downtown Vancouver.

The meeting was called Wednesday by leaders of the sect who have been living in the Vancouver area since the Freedomites trekked from southeast B.C. homes late last year.

A wire was sent to Freedomite leaders in the Kootenay announcing the meeting.

Reds Spy On DEW Line?

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP) — The Daily News Miner reported Wednesday it was told by an informed source that a large balloon believed to be Russian was following the course of the Distant Early Warning line in Alaska and Canada.

The North American Air Defence command said a free air balloon of unknown origin was under surveillance of the DEW line.

"The report has not been verified with either the air force or the defence department," the article says. The story says the balloon, visible to the naked eye and floating at about 39,000 feet, was reported to have been over Alaskan DEW line sectors Saturday and Sunday.

The newspaper says: "The balloon sighting had temporarily thrown radar technicians on the DEW-line into a panic, it was reported."

"It was not known if the balloon was manned."

"The balloon was first spotted coming from the direction of Siberia, over Cape Lisburne on the western coast of Alaska, the source said."

"The balloon was known to have travelled over the DEW line as far as Cambridge Bay, Alaska, it was claimed."

"It was also reported that air force jet fighters had flown to the area to check on the balloon."

"Another source said this morning that 'Moscow Molly,' broadcasting from Russia over Radio Moscow, had told an intermediate DEW line site: 'Your radar beacon is off.'"

Before uniform international postal relations were formed a century ago, as many as 1,200 different postage rates were being used.

CONTRAST SHOWS

Discussion of race and social injustice came to the congress amid a controversy among Episcopalian (Anglican) delegates from the United States over the U.S. civil rights issue.

The House of Bishops of the U.S. church met Monday and a majority decided to support the civil rights campaign and a planned march on Washington Aug. 28 to seek improved legislation. Most Rev. Arthur Lichtenberger of New York, presiding Episcopalian bishop, announced that bulletins will be sent to all U.S. Episcopal churches urging participation in the march.

Some Southern bishops questioned the wisdom of the action and some Southern laymen at the congress were sharply critical.

"The House of Bishops has played a pathetic role in the whole stark tragedy of race relations," said segregationist lay delegate Francis T. West of Martinsville, Va., Wednesday.

"Nothing has exposed more clearly than this affair the futility of some clerics' minds—and their naïveté—in areas of political and legal combat."

Subjects brought up publicly in open panel meetings of the 1,000-member Anglican congress are hashed over privately afterwards in almost 40 closed study groups. Any action in the form of resolutions would be brought up at plenary sessions later in the 11-day conclave.

Bishop Sadiq urged the church to apply the Christian principles of humanity and love to political issues. "The relevance of love to politics might appear to the world absurd, but to the church it is the ultimate basis of all good life, individual and social."

SIT AND TALK

"We can sit and talk about the mineral resources we have, and we'll have them 200 years later."

The Income Tax Act should also be more clear on exactly what constitutes a capital gain. The definition, "an adventure in the nature of trade," should be stricken from the act and replaced with more precise descriptions of capital gains.

TOKYO (AP) — The Soviet Union is demanding $250,000 from a Japanese firm for failing to fulfil a contract for oil pipeline pipe, Tokyo newspapers reported Thursday. ## RCN AIDS IN SEARCH FOR DOWNED FLIERS

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A search is under way in the Gulf of Alaska for four navy helicopter crew members whose jet-powered craft crashed about midnight, the navy said today.

The helicopter was operating from the USS Bennington on an anti-submarine warfare exercise and was about two miles away when the ship received its distress call.

First on the scene was the destroyer O'Brien and its captain reported sighting only debris. Participating in the search are planes from the Bennington, ships from destroyer division 232 and three Royal Canadian Navy destroyer escorts, HMCS Margaree, Skeena and Mackenzie.

ROOT OF DISPUTE

Atom Bomb Refused Red China

By GEORGE SYVERTSEN

MOSCOW (AP)—Russia and Red China today laid bare the crux of their acrid dispute over the nuclear test ban treaty—Moscow's refusal in 1959 to give the Chinese nuclear weapons.

MAYOR MOORE
... after 'leeches'

Hardnose Dole Rule Supported

Courtenay Mayor William Moore put his work-for-welfare policy into effect today.

And a group of other B.C. reeves and mayors prepared to follow his lead.

What started as a one-mayor rebellion against the policy of paying dole to a minority who won't work is snowballing throughout the province.

Mayor Loran Jordan of Port Alberni and Mayor Fred Bishop of Alberni both stated they will not assign payments to applicants who have had liquor offences or similar convictions.

SEEK CHANGES

Others lending support and pledging to seek changes in the Welfare Act are mayors Beth Wood of New Westminster, Maurice Flinnerty of Port Moody, T. T. McCann of Chilliwack, reeves Peter Jenevne of Maple Ridge, Alex Hogen of Sumas, Jack Murphy of Matsqui and village commissioners Art Clinton of Campbell River and Paul Scherle of Hope.

In this area, Esquimalt-Saanich MP and former Saanich reeve George Chatterton said he favors legislation backing Mayor Moore's stand.

Mayor Moore recently told The Times he planned to employ relief recipients on civic projects where they would

Peking finally exposed the festering cut to its national pride in a slashing attack on Soviet nuclear disarmament policy published by the New China news agency today.

It disclosed that the Soviet Union had refused to provide China with "a sample of an atomic bomb and technical data concerning its manufacture."

The Chinese broadside charged that the Russians tore up a 1957 Soviet-Chinese agreement on co-operation in defence technology.

The Soviet abrogations of the agreement as far back as June 20, 1959, "was done as a presentation gift at the time the Soviet leader (Khrushchev) went to the United States for talks with Eisenhower in September," the Chinese charged.

EXPLAINS REFUSAL

The Soviet Communist party organ Pravda, in seeming anticipation of the Chinese blow, today published a justification of Moscow's refusal to share its atomic secrets with its allies.

The Pravda attack was a reprint of an anti-Chinese document published in Vienna by the Moscow-sponsored World Peace Council.

It accused the Chinese of having broken with the rest of the world's "fighters for peace" over the partial nuclear test ban.

"Their only worry is to justify the policy of the Chinese government which is doing everything it can to take part in the nuclear arms race," it charged.

The article rejected Chinese claims that Russia and the United States were seeking to maintain a monopoly of nuclear weapons.

The Communist peace movement, it said, "resolutely rejects the very idea that peace should be strengthened... by increasing the number of countries possessing nuclear weapons."

BUILD NUCLEAR ARSENAL

The Pravda reprint also quoted recent Chinese assertions that Peking expects to develop its own nuclear arsenal in the near future. The Soviet public has not previously been informed officially of this prospect.

Premier Khrushchev, who the Chinese indicated personally decided to bar their way to nuclear secrets, was unofficially reported in the West to have stated his refusal to give China atomic weapons during his visit to Peking following his tour of the United States.

The Khrushchev decision ap-

6 Held, $300,000 Found In 'Great Train Robbery'

MAIL BAGS from the London-bound train which was held up and robbed a week ago are unloaded at police headquarters in Aylesbury, Buckingham-shire today. The bags, some of them stuffed with hay, possibly for use as beds, were found during search of gang's hideout on farm.

Two Suspects Offer Struggle

(Times News Services)

LONDON—Britain's great train robbery appeared to be cracking wide open tonight as police took into custody six persons—including two women—and seized more than £100,000 ($300,000) in cash.

It was believed the five persons were being taken by police to Buckinghamshire, 45 miles northwest of London, where the robbery took place.

Scotland Yard sources said more arrests were likely soon.

It was not known that two women and one man had been taken into custody in London until this evening when the trio left Cannon Row police station.

They were believed travelling to Aylesbury police headquarters in Buckinghamshire.

A sixth suspect, detained in Surrey, was reported to have had a large number of bills in his possession.

Police announced that the other two men were arrested Wednesday night in the channel coast resort town of Bournemouth on a "holding charge" after a struggle with detectives.

Shortly afterwards about £100,000 in cash was found in two abandoned vehicles.

The bandits' cash haul in the robbery in Buckinghamshire 40 miles northwest of here was a world-record $750,000.

Advance Payment Roused Suspicion

The two men arrested at Bournemouth were nabbed Wednesday night after a local person became suspicious when they asked for rooms and paid the landlady three months' rent in advance for the rooms and garage space for two cars.

They were not immediately identified but were said to be about 45 years old.

The two men put up a struggle before being arrested, police reported.

Detective Sergeant Stan Davies, 44, a Hampshire rugby football player, and Detective Constable Charles Case, 29, found the two men.

The officers were not injured in the struggle.

Canadians May Be Involved

Detectives have discovered the lonely farmhouse the bandits used as a hideout. They have the name and address of the men who bought the place less than a month ago. They have the descriptions of strangers seen in the district just before the raid. They have a list of 47 cars and truck registration numbers collected by a nine-year-old boy watching traffic pass near the farmhouse Friday.

They also have information from Canadian police that three Toronto criminals—two of them suspects in a Canadian holdup three years ago—are believed to be in Britain.

They said the trio—whom Canadian law forbids naming—have been in England for months.

Two of the men are suspected of taking part in the 1960 hijacking of $42,000 from a truck which robbers stopped with phony signals at a railway crossing.

A false signal was used to stop the Glasgow-London mail train from which the record loot was taken.

Questioned about the purchase of the farm hideout, a Scotland Yard spokesman re-

U.S. PLANES LOOK ON AS REFUGEES GRABBED

WASHINGTON (AP)—Men from two Cuban warships and a helicopter kidnapped 19 Cuban refugees from a British Caribbean island Tuesday while U.S. warplanes watched, the state department disclosed today.

Word of the action at Anquilla Key was given by press officer Richard I. Phillips as a U.S. Coast Guard ship sailed into Key West with 10 other refugees who escaped the Castro raid.

Phillips said the U.S. Coast Guard patrol planes and U.S. fighter craft which saw the Castro seizure "were not in a position" to do anything about it because of international law.

Anquilla Key is about 40 or 50 miles from Cuba, in the Cay Sal bank of the Bahama Islands "which is British territory," he said.

ARMY TAKES OVER

Rioters Force Youlou to Quit

BRAZZAVILLE, Congo Republic (AP)—President Fulbert Youlou resigned from office today. He announced that he quit from the steps of his palace.

The downfall of the little priest-politician came on the third anniversary of this equatorial African nation's independence from France. Youlou had been the republic's chief executive from the start.

A former Roman Catholic parish priest who was forbidden to say mass because of his political activity, Youlou had been believed to hold this country of 795,000 people in a firm grip.

JUBILATION

A chanting mob of Africans who had swarmed around the palace shouting for his resignation greeted the news with noisy jubilation.

Heavily armed Congo troops and police under French command held back the crowd of at least 10,000. Units of the 3,000-man French army garrison were held in reserve with tanks and half-trucks loaded with helmeted soldiers.

The mob was unarmed. Unrest also was reported in the city's Negro townships, where anti-Youlou labor leaders were haranguing workmen.

The 46-year-old president, bowing to the pressure of dissident labor leaders and rioting strikers, had promised Wednesday to form a new government and postpone introduction of a single party system fusing the three established political parties.

DISCOVER POT
Another Foster, he says, illegally bought the gold chamber pot used by Russian Empress Catherine the Great which had been stolen from the Leningrad Ermitage Museum.

The traveller's child sat on the pot so long that a customs inspector checked and found it had been painted over to hide the gold.

Kalantarov also complains that Westerners and Russians frequently try to carry blocked Soviet rubles out of the country.

"Enemy intelligence centres always need Soviet currency for their agents," he says.

Segregation Row Sparks Church Parley

TORONTO (CP)—Delegates to the Anglican World Congress clashed today on a controversy over how far the church should become engaged in the struggle for Negro civil rights and social justice.

(See also page 31.)
Mingled hissing and scattered applause greeted a statement by segregationist Francis T. West, a lay delegate from Martinsville, Va., who charged that church support for the Aug. 28 march on Washington indicates "fuzziness in clerical minds."

"The church thus becomes a mere handmaiden of the pseudo-liberals," he protested that it is repugnant to "use Christianity as a front" in the civil rights issue.

Mr. West was one of several delegates who spoke from the floor. But he was the only one to oppose support for civil rights demonstrations.

As Mr. West was speaking a Negro clergyman was standing quietly beside him awaiting a turn at the microphone. However, Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, who was moderator of the discussion, adjourned the meeting for lunch following the West speech. The issue was later taken up at closed study groups.

MUST SPEAK BOLDLY

Rev. C. Edward Crowther, formerly of Cape Town, South Africa, and now chaplain at the University of California, in Los Angeles, delivered an impassioned plea to the Congress to "speak boldly to some southern clergy and laymen who have not stood up to be counted" on the side of civil rights for Negroes.

The Episcopal church in some states practises segregation... in the name of Christ this congress should say something to these people," he said.

Mother Faces Murder Trial

VANCOUVER (CP)—A Port Hardy woman is awaiting trial here for non-capital murder in the death of her five-year-old daughter June 3.

Ethel Mountain, 25, of the Fort Rupert Indian Reserve at Port Hardy, was charged Monday and flown here Tuesday. She was remanded without plea.

Police said the child, one of seven, was stabbed twice with a kitchen knife and died a day later in hospital at Alert Bay.

Date for the trial has not been set.

Buddhist Nun Dies In Suicide Blaze

SAIGON (AP)—A middle-aged Buddhist nun burned herself to death today in a South Viet Nam coastal village to further the Buddhist campaign against President Ngo Dinh Diem's government.

The nun, Dieu Hien, was the fourth Buddhist to commit suicide by fire.

The Buddhists say they are being discriminated against by the government. Diem is a Roman Catholic.

In Hue, capital of central Viet Nam, government troops with fixed bayonets broke up a demonstration by several hundred Buddhist students demanding the body of a novice monk who immolated himself Tuesday. Scores of students were arrested, and some were believed wounded.

The monk committed suicide at a pagoda outside Hue. Monks were carrying the body into the city for a public burial Wednesday when troops seized it and turned it over to an uncle of the monk for private burial.

FALSE BOTTOMS HELD PROPAGANDA

China Tea Chokes Soviets

MOSCOW (AP)—The Communist Chinese have smuggled anti-Soviet propaganda into Russia in the false bottoms of boxes of rice and tea, a Soviet customs official says.

V. G. Kalantarov, deputy head of the chief customs office in Moscow, says in an interview with the weekly newspaper Nedyelnya (Week), that his inspectors have confiscated about 50 Chinese propaganda brochures.

He says the contraband literature was found in boxes of tea and rice sent to Soviet officials with whom the Chinese do business.

"Characteristically, all those to whom these packages were sent expressed indignation on receiving them," Kalantarov says.

He adds that the Chinese are not the only offenders against Soviet customs regulations, and says an unidentified American millionaire was once caught trying to bring in 650 ballpoint pens, 100 phonograph records and 80 religious books in his baggage.

OWNER AWAY THIEVES PLAY $2,000 'GAME'

A Saanich home was looted of nearly $2,000 worth of goods over a 21-month period while the owner was in Ireland, it was discovered recently.

Saanich police are investigating thefts from 5225 Patricia Bay Highway, the home of Mrs. A. H. Murphy. Missing are china worth $698.40, crystal and silver worth $691, household items worth $388.99, and tools and other goods worth about $124.

Mrs. Murphy has been in Ireland for two years, and the thefts took place in her absence between Sept. 1, 1961 and July 1, 1963.

Whereabouts of the tenant of the house during Mrs. Murphy's absence are not known.

55 Days in Jail ... And a Lecture

No Concern for Others Magistrate Tells Boy

A Victoria youth was sentenced to a total of 55 days in jail today for "disgraceful, criminal conduct."

The quotes are the magistrate's.

David A. Porter, 18, 3124 Yew, was charged with taking a motorcycle without the owner's consent, dangerous driving, and having no driver's licence.

Police said that Porter was pursued by the Mayfair shopping centre to Douglas and Burnside Aug. 6 at speeds up to 100 miles an hour.

He rolled the cycle after hitting a concrete divide at that intersection, and ran away, abandoning the vehicle.

NABBED AT HOME
He was later apprehended at home.

Police were called to the shopping centre when a motorcycle was reported racing around the grounds.

They chased the motorcycle west on Finlayson, where it went through a stop sign onto Douglas, accelerated out to Carey at 75 to 80 miles an hour, and went through stop signs on Tillikum.

On Burnside, still being pursued, Porter got the cycle up to 100 miles an hour, slowed to turn back onto Douglas, and rolled the machine when he took the corner too wide.

Damage to the motorcycle was estimated at $60.

Porter said he would like to pay for the damage.

Court was told that Porter was on probation for theft under $50. He was convicted in Oak Bay March 23.

"It's a miracle you weren't killed," Magistrate William Ostler told him.

"The problem is that people like you usually kill others. This was disgraceful, criminal conduct."

Porter was sentenced to 30 days for stealing the motorcycle, 20 days for dangerous driving and five days for having no driver's licence.

The sentences are consecutive. He was also forbidden to drive anywhere in Canada for three years.

COMMUNITY RESPONDS

Pain of Boy's Burns Soothed by Kindness

Keith Barker isn't lonely any more.

The nine-year-old Campbell River youngster, isolated with had burns in St. Joseph's Hospital, has received "stacks" of mail since Wednesday afternoon, hospital officials said today.

And his parents' when they come down to visit him this weekend—they've been offered free accommodation at the Douglas Hotel.

The Barker family has been financially hard hit since Keith was burned in a gasoline explosion March 2.

Their savings are gone, their debts are mounting, and their son is alone, forbidden all visitors except his family.

Last weekend, for the first time since he went in, they were unable to come to see him, because the family pay cheque just wouldn't stretch that far.

MANY LETTERS

But an appeal Wednesday in The Times for letters to lighten Keith's loneliness—the boy burned with him has been released, and he is quite alone in his room—has brought them in by the bundle for the boy.

He has also been sent toys, and people have tried to visit him.

Due to the fear of infection of his open burn wounds, this is not permitted.

Mrs. Barker said this morning that she has been phoned by two Victoria couples who wanted the Barkers to stay with them when they came down this weekend, but that they turned the offers down because they didn't want to "impose on anyone."

But they will gladly take up the offer of Ken King, the Douglas Hotel manager, to put them up.

"It's wonderful of him," said Mrs. Barker.

"Everyone has been just wonderful."

Exemption Will Require B.C. Subsidy

Acting Mayor Arthur Dowell today said he doubted the Union of B.C. Municipalities will seek school tax exemption for old-age pensioners.

But elected officials would support efforts to obtain special provincial subsidies to help homeowners with no income but the old-age pension, he said.

A resolution proposing the tax exemption for persons living on the OAP alone will be voted on at next month's UBCEM convention. The provincial OAP association already has lobbied city council to vote in favor.

DOWELL SYMPATHETIC
Ald. Dowell, chairman of the taxation committee, said he was sympathetic to the need.

"Unquestionably, our sympathies are with these people but such an exemption would be quite a blow to all the other taxpayers in the city who would have to make up the difference," he said.

Ald. Dowell pointed out that legislation exempting senior citizen low-rent housing projects from civic taxes had made a noticeable bite into Victoria's tax picture. Because of the high proportion of old age pensioners in Victoria, direct exemptions to individuals probably would have an even greater effect.

WOULD NEED AID
"Unless the provincial government subsidized it, I don't see how the city could underwrite such a tax exemption."

Flyboys to Fill Air With Friday Frolics

The sky will be filled with airplanes Friday, when the Royal Canadian Air Force stages its biggest-ever show over Beacon Hill Park and the Dallas Road waterfront.

It will be Air Force Day, starting with a band concert in the park at 1 p.m. and roaring to a climax with the internationally-famous Golden Hawks aerobatic team.

At 1:30 p.m., the air show will explode into action with a low level, high speed fly past by a Voodoo jet from Comox Air Base.

Immediately following, a simulated air-sea rescue will be carried out, with fixed wing aircraft, helicopter and crash boat.

SUBMARINE EXERCISE
Next on the program, at 1:55 p.m., will be a submarine "hunt and kill" exercise with Neptune maritime patrol aircraft in the landing role.

At 2:20, solo aerobatics will be staged by the "Red Knight," followed at 2:40 p.m. by the Golden Hawks team effort.

All portions of the air show will be staged seaward of the Douglas Hotel.

FRIDAY MEETINGS
Victoria Lions Club: noon, Empress Hotel; Club Waggoner, "Palm Desert."

Trainload of Smiles

Well-Tuned Youth Blow Happy Notes

National Youth Orchestra's 92 members defy the belief that musicians are temperamental monstrosities who can't get along together.

When they arrived in Victoria Wednesday afternoon after six weeks of 12-hour-a-day rehearsals and practice culminating in a 2,500-mile rail journey and seven major concerts, they were all good-humored and in happy mood.

"I don't recall a cross word being spoken during the entire journey," said one official traveling with the group.

BEST IN 25 YEARS

Mrs. F. Van Snell, a member of the board of 10 that manages the NYO Association, disclosed that Red Brown, Canadian National special tours supervisor, has said that in 25 years of tour arrangements he has never experienced such a well-mannered pleasant-spirited group.

Conductor Walter Susskind was accompanied by his attractive young wife, and they are described as the best of trouper.

"They'd line up for the cafeteria, taking their turn and joking and laughing with the students," Mrs. Van Snell says.

"He's a strict disciplinarian as well as a wonderful conductor. The kids are devoted to him. If they were inattentive after a too-late night he'd give them a stern lecture, then everything would end up with a joke and a good laugh."

NONE MISSED A NIGHT

None of the 92 ever missed one of the concerts that began at Stratford and ended Wednesday night in Victoria.

Only problem on the train was that everyone preferred the lower to the upper berth.

"We solved that by telling them if they slept in a lower one night they had to go up the next," laughs Mrs. Jay Armin of Windsor, Ont., traveling with group as orchestra "mother."

Her husband is also along as administrator and they are parents of three of the orchestra members including the concertmaster, Otto.

But, says Mrs. Armin, gazing proudly around at the assembled youngsters, "I don't feel more of a mother to my own three than I do to the whole orchestra."

GRANDDADDY IS 24
The youngest is aged 14 and the oldest was described by Susskind as "the granddaddy of them all," at 24.

They are unique in that they only meet together for a few weeks of the year and that there is inevitably some change of personnel from year to year, hailing as they do, from all parts of Canada.

Yet such is their training and dedication that they are able to present, as they did Wednesday night, that effect than which there is nothing more thrilling to the musical ear—the perfection of coordination in attack and phrasing, the richness of sound that commonly takes several years to produce.

They have not as yet it was clear, either the musical or emotional maturity for the profounder aspects of a Brahms symphony.

BRAHMS IMPRESSIVE
But this does not mean that their Brahms No. 1 (substituted for the programmed Shostakovich First) was not a musical vital and generally impressive performance.

Weber's "Die Freischütz" Overture opened the program and provided immediate intimation of the capabilities of the orchestra under the smooth, ample but restrained dynamism of its noted conductor.

"Lyric" by Canadian composer Harry Somers, was not a piece to be enjoyed on first hearing but it developed virtuoso facets of performance through its orchestration.

A Suite by Hungarian composer Zoltan Kodaly, with its vivid changes of mood, rhythmic patterns and dynamics, held much interest and was frequently delightful.

The Gardens setting was as beautiful as ever and undoubtedly helped to draw the thousands. But musically speaking I am left with the desire to hear the orchestra indoors, minus amplification that was not always in balance.

ROOT OF DISPUTE

Atom Bomb
Refused
Red China

By GEORGE SYVERTSEN

MOSCOW (AP)—Russia and Red China today laid bare the crux of their acrid dispute over the nuclear test ban treaty—Moscow's refusal in 1959 to give the Chinese nuclear weapons.

Peking finally exposed the festering cut to its national pride in a slashing attack on Soviet nuclear disarmament policy published by the New China news agency today.

It disclosed that the Soviet Union had refused to provide China with "a sample of an atomic bomb and technical data concerning its manufacture."

The Chinese broadside charged that the Russians tore up a 1957 Soviet-Chinese agreement on co-operation in defence technology.

The Soviet abrogation of the agreement as far back as June 20, 1959, "was done as a presentation gift at the time the Soviet leader (Khrushchev) went to the United States for talks with Eisenhower in September," the Chinese charged.

The Soviet Communist party organ Pravda, in seeming anticipation of the Chinese blow, today published a justification of Moscow's refusal to share its atomic secrets with its allies.

The Pravda attack was a reprint of an anti-Chinese document published in Vienna by the Moscow-sponsored World Peace Council.

It accused the Chinese of having broken with the rest of the world's "fighters for peace" over the partial nuclear test ban.

Premier Khrushchev, who the Chinese indicated personally decided to bar their way to nuclear secrets, was unofficially reported in the West to have stated his refusal to give China atomic weapons during his visit to Peking following his tour of the United States.

The Khrushchev decision ap-

GREAT TRAIN ROBBERY
CRACKED BY 'YARD'

MAIL BAGS from the London-bound train which was held up and robbed a week ago are unloaded at police headquarters in Aylesbury, Buckingham-

shire today. The bags, some of them stuffed with hay, possibly for use as beds, were found during search of gang's hideout on farm.

Police Seize
$300,000

(Times News Services)

LONDON—Britain's great train robbery appeared to be cracking wide open tonight as police took into custody five persons—including two women—and seized more than £100,000 ($300,000) in cash.

It was believed the five persons were being taken by police to Buckinghamshire, 45 miles northwest of London, where the robbery took place.

Scotland Yard sources said more arrests were likely soon.

It was not known that two women and one man had been taken into custody in London until this evening when the trio left Cannon Row police station.

They were believed travelling to Aylesbury police headquarters in Buckinghamshire.

Police announced that the other two men were arrested Wednesday night in the channel coast resort town of Bournemouth on a "holding charge" after a struggle with detectives.

Shortly afterwards a bolt £100,000 in cash was found in two abandoned vehicles.

The bandits' cash haul in the robbery in Buckinghamshire 40 miles northwest of here was a world-record $7,500,000.

Advance Payment Roused Suspicion

The two men arrested at Bournemouth were nabbed Wednesday night after a local person became suspicious when they asked for rooms and paid the landlady three months' rent in advance for the rooms and garage space for two cars.

They were not immediately identified but were said to be about 45 years old.

The two men put up a struggle before being arrested, police reported.

Detective Sergeant Stan Davies, 44, a Hampshire rugby football player, and Detective Constable Charles Case, 29, found the two men.

The officers were not injured in the struggle.

Detective Supt. Gerald MacArthur of Scotland Yard and Malcolm Fawcett, chief of the criminal investigation department in Buckinghamshire, the county in which the robbery occurred, hastened to Bournemouth to question the men held there.

Meanwhile, the Daily Mirror reports from Cannes on the French Riviera that Billy Hill, a confessed British ex-gangster, has denied masterminding the robbery.

There have been persistent reports that the brain behind the robbery may have headed for the French Riviera days before the robbery to give himself an alibi.

Canadians May Be Involved

Detectives have discovered the lonely farmhouse the bandits used as a hideout. They have the name and address of the men who bought the place less than a month ago. They have the descriptions of strangers seen in the district just before the raid. They have a list of 47 car and truck registration numbers collected by a nine-year-old boy watching traffic pass near the farmhouse Friday.

They also have information from Canadian police that three Toronto criminals—two of them suspects in a Canadian holdup three years ago—are believed to be in Britain.

They said the trio—whom Canadian law forbids naming—have been in England for months.

Two of the men are suspected of taking part in the 1960 hijacking of $42,000 from a truck which robbers stopped with phony signals at a railway crossing.

A false signal was used to stop the Glasgow-London mail train from which the record loot was taken.

Questioned about the purchase of the farm hideout, a Scotland Yard spokesman re-

ARMY TAKES OVER

Rioters Force
Youlou to Quit

BRAZZAVILLE, Congo Republic (AP)—President Fulbert Youlou resigned from office today. He announced that he quit from the steps of his palace.

The army temporarily assumed power.

The downfall of the little priest-politician came on the third anniversary of this equatorial African nation's independence from France. Youlou had been the republic's chief executive from the start.

A former Roman Catholic parish priest who was forbidden to say mass because of his political activity, Youlou had been believed to hold this country of 795,000 people in a firm grip.

A chanting mob of Africans who had swarmed around the palace shouting for his resignation greeted the news with noisy jubilation.

Heavily armed Congo troops and police under French command held back the crowd of at least 10,000. Units of the 3,000-man French army garrison were held in reserve with tanks and half-trucks loaded with helmeted soldiers.

The mob was unarmed.

Unrest also was reported in the city's Negro townships, where anti-Youlou labor leaders were haranguing workmen. The 46-year-old president, bowing to the pressure of dissident labor leaders and rioting strikers, had promised Wednesday to form a new government and postpone introduction of a single party system fusing the three established political parties.

U.S. PLANES LOOK ON AS REFUGEES GRABBED

WASHINGTON (AP)—Men from two Cuban warships and a helicopter kidnapped 19 Cuban refugees from a British Caribbean island Tuesday while U.S. warplanes watched, the state department disclosed today.

Word of the action at Anquilla Key was given by press officer Richard I. Phillips as a U.S. Coast Guard ship sailed into Key West with 10 other refugees who escaped the Castro raid.

Phillips said the U.S. Coast Guard patrol planes and U.S. fighter craft which saw the Castro seizure "were not in a position" to do anything about it because of international law.

Anquilla Key is about 40 or 50 miles from Cuba, in the Cay Sal bank of the Bahama Islands "which is British territory," he said.

Hardnose
Dole Rule

Courtenay Mayor William Moore put his work-for-welfare policy into effect today.

And a group of other B.C. reeves and mayors prepared to follow his lead.

What started as a one-mayor rebellion against the policy of paying dole to a minority who won't work is snowballing throughout the province.

Mayor Loran Jordan of Port Alberni and Mayor Fred Bishop of Alberni both stated they will not assign payments to applicants who have had liquor offence or similar convictions.

Others lending support and pledging to seek changes in the Welfare Act are mayors Beth Wood of New Westminster, Maurice Finnerty of Penikese, T. T. McCammon of Chilliwack, reeves Peter Jenewein of Maple Ridge, Alex Hogen of Sumas, Jack Murphy of Matsqui and village commissioners Art Clinton of Campbell River and Paul Scherle of Hope.

In this area, Esquimalt-Saanich MP and former Saanich reeve George Chatterton said he favors legislation backing Mayor Moore's stand.

Mayor Moore recently told The Times he planned to employ relief recipients on civic projects where they would

FALSE BOTTOMS IN BOXES

Anti-Soviet Tracts
Found in China Tea

MOSCOW (AP)—The Communist Chinese have smuggled anti-Soviet propaganda into Russia in the false bottoms of boxes of rice and tea, a Soviet customs official says.

V. G. Kalantarov, deputy head of the chief customs office in Moscow, says in an interview with the weekly newspaper Nedyelya (Week), that his inspectors have confiscated about 50 Chinese propaganda brochures.

He says the contraband literature was found in boxes of tea and rice sent to Soviet officials with whom the Chinese do business.

"Characteristically, all those to whom these packages were sent expressed indignation on receiving them," Kalantarov says.

He adds that the Chinese are not the only offenders against Soviet customs regulations, and says an unidentified American millionaire was once caught trying to bring in 650 ballpoint pens, 100 phonograph records and 80 religious books in his baggage.

Another Westerner, he says, illegally bought the gold chamber pot used by Russian Empress Catherine the Great which had been stolen from the Leningrad Hermitage Museum.

The traveller's child sat on the pot so long that a customs inspector checked and found it had been painted over to hide the gold.

Kalantarov also complains that Westerners and Russians frequently try to carry blocked Soviet rubles out of the country. "Enemy intelligence centres always need Soviet currency for their agents," he says.

China's mad b'cuz Russia didn't send 'em H-bombs. Th' rest o' th' world'll be glad if Russia never sends 'em anywhere.

Didn't really appreciate England's economic plight till I learned that anybody over there rich-enuff t' pay in advance must be a robber.

Th' real tourist weather, o' course, will start when th' tourists go.

Segregation
Row Sparks
Church Parley

TORONTO (CP)—Delegates to the Anglican World Congress clashed today on a controversy over how far the church should become engaged in the struggle for Negro civil rights and social justice.

(See also page 31.)

Mingled hissing and scattered applause greeted a statement by segregationist Francis T. West, a lay delegate from Martinsville, Va., who charged that church support for the Aug. 28 march on Washington indicates "fuzziness in clerical minds."

"The church thus becomes a mere handmaiden of the pseudo-liberals," he protested that it is repugnant to "use Christianity as a front" in the civil rights issue.

Mr. West was one of several delegates who spoke from the floor. But he was the only one to oppose support for civil rights demonstrations.

As Mr. West was speaking a Negro clergyman was standing quietly beside him awaiting a turn at the microphone. However, Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, who was moderator of the discussion, adjourned the meeting for lunch following the West speech. The issue was later taken up at closed study groups.

Rev. C. Edward Crowther, formerly of Cape Town, South Africa, and now chaplain at the University of California, in Los Angeles, delivered an impassioned plea to the Congress to "speak boldly to some southern clergy and laymen who have not stood up to be counted" on the side of civil rights for Negroes.

The Episcopal church in some states practises segregation... in the name of Christ this congress should say something to these people," he said.
